WATERSHED PROHIBITION PROTESTED

Victoria and District Fish and Game Association Lodges Objection to City's Bill

GOLDSTREAM IS TO BE SAFEGUARDED

Declares It Would Shut Off Access to Land Used for Hunting Purposes

CONTENDING that the wide powers of exclusion sought by the city of Victoria were against the public interest and could serve no useful purpose, the Victoria and District Fish and Game Association, through its president, Mr. Ernest L. Taft, has lodged with the private bill committee of the Legislature a protest against the power which the city of Victoria is seeking in its private bill at the present session to make any entry upon city watersheds, without permission, a trespass, and providing stringent penalties for violations of such suggested regulations.

The section referring to this matter, which the city has desired of having included in Bill No. 50, cited as the Victoria City Act, 1929, reads as follows:

Notwithstanding the provisions of the Trespass Act, any other statute or law to the contrary, no person shall enter upon any watershed land or other land owned by the corporation for water works purposes, or in or upon any of the waters located within the area of the said land without the consent or authority in writing of the water commissioner, with the approval of the Council of the corporation expressed by resolution thereof, and any person so entering upon the said land or waters as aforesaid without said consent or authority shall be guilty of trespass, and shall, on summary conviction, be liable to a penalty not exceeding $500 and not less than $100 for each such offence, and in default of payment to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months.

The reasons for the Victoria and District Fish and Game Association's protest against the granting of the above powers to the city are enumerated in the following communication which President Taft has forwarded to the private bill committee:

WOULD CLOSE LARGE AREA

1. That the section would lock up a huge block of territory, thousands of acres in extent. The district is one which since the time of first settlement in British Columbia has been resorted to in the pursuit of game in which it is particularly famous.

He was shortly afterwards appointed chairman of the British Broadcasting Corporation, and is now named to succeed the Earl of Athlone as Governor-General of South Africa.

DIVISION IS PARTY ONE ON INQUIRY

Conservatives Endorse Resolution for Watt Investigation by Departmental Inquiry

SELECT COMMITTEE PROJECT WITHDRAWN

The plan of a departmental inquiry into the conduct of Mr. Norman Watt, as suggested from the Government side of the Legislature will be carried out. The House, by a vote of 30 to 11, yesterday approved the plan by which the Prime Minister undertook to appoint a commissioner who would give a full and fair examination into the situation at Prince Rupert. The main contribution to the debate was the speech of Colonel C. W. Peck, V.C., who expressed the opinion that when the Prime Minister said a fair investigation would be held, it was sufficient justification for him to accord with this, as Dr. Toimie's reputation was such that there could be no doubt about the promise being carried out.

Fire Threatens Prince Albert Building Block

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., Feb. 13.—The Strand Theatre here is burning down and adjacent buildings are threatened. Fire fighters are making frantic efforts to save the city block from destruction. Only the operator was in the theatre when fire broke out, and he made his escape through a window.

New Air Mail Service to Reduce Time From Prairie Provinces to West Coast

OTTAWA, Feb. 13.—Air mail service in the Prairies will be inaugurated on March 3, Hon. P. J. Veniot, Postmaster-General, announced tonight. The main line of the service will connect Winnipeg, Regina, Moose Jaw, Medicine Hat and Calgary.

Another route running between Edmonton, North Battleford and Saskatoon will go into effect on the same date.

The Postoffice Department has been working for months in co-operation with the flying office in the Department of National Defence in preparation for the new service. ## Mr. W. H. Taft Still Improves Say Physicians

(Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The general condition of William Howard Taft was described today by his physicians as showing continued improvement, but no visitors were allowed into his room. His doctors were watching closely the progress of his rally against the disease which caused him to resign his post as head of the Supreme Court a week ago.

ANTI-RELIGION IN RUSSIA HAS COUNTERMOVE

Pope Pius Calls on Other Governments to Demand Religious Freedom Throughout Country

WOULD MEAN STOP OF ALL RELATIONS

By CARROLL BENDER (Copyright, 1930, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service)

MOSCOW, U.S.S.R., Feb. 13.—The Pope's suggestion that the powers demand religious freedom in the Soviet Union as a condition to recognition inspires the Moscow Communist newspaper, Pravda, to an attack on the pontiff as an enemy of the laboring class.

The papal proposal is tantamount to a request for the rupture of diplomatic relations between bourgeois and the Soviet Governments, according to the Pravda, which adds that the Soviet Union will never allow outsiders to intervene in its domestic affairs, notably in the antireligious policy. Attempts to intervene on religious grounds will fall like all preceding attempts.

MORE CHURCHES CLOSED

Closing of churches throughout the Soviet Union proceeds rapidly. Huge communities such as Odessa have already closed all churches of all sects. There have been numerous sensational denunciations of faith by prominent clergymen, some of

Rob Peter to Pay Paul in Chicago City

CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—By borrowing almost $2,000,000 from the city funds, Chicago city officials today found sufficient cash to pay city employees their salary cheques which have been past due since January 15.

City Treasurer Charles S. Peterson, arriving home today from Mexico City where he attended the inauguration of President Ortiz Rubio, announced the money would be borrowed from the vehicle tax and corporate funds of the city. The payroll for the half-month totals $1,890,000.

Immediately upon receipt of the treasurer's announcement, clerks started making out pay cheques. The city employees who will receive these cheques—the first this year, number about 12,000 and include firemen and policemen. There remain, however, approximately 600 teachers and other employees of the Board of Education and the county who have received no salaries since shortly after Christmas.

The money will be enough to pay only the semi-monthly salaries due January 15. February 1 salaries are also overdue, and with no more money in sight it is probable that February 15 will find the city again one month in arrears.

Temporary Assistance Requested by Municipalities in Way of Increasing Vote for Teachers

SELECT COMMITTEE IS SUGGESTED

Contending that the burden of taxation in British Columbia is most unfairly distributed, and that the owners of real property situated within municipalities are compelled to pay taxes out of all proportion to their ability to pay, and to the benefit derived from such taxes, the Union of British Columbia Municipalities yesterday waited upon the House Municipal Committee and asked for relief from the present situation.

The union urged the House Committee to present to the Government the following petitions from the union:

1. That as a temporary expedient provision be made this year for an increase of 50 per cent in the grant to municipalities for teachers' salaries, and that the same percentage of liquor profits be paid to the municipalities as in 1928.

2. That a select committee of the Legislature be appointed for the purpose of submitting to the 1931 session of the Legislature some practical solution of the revenue question in this province, with special regard to readjustment of taxes for school purposes.

Another Cabinet Meeting But No Result Is Known

OTTAWA, Feb. 13.—Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King announced this evening at the conclusion of a lengthy sitting of the Cabinet Council that no agreement had been made at today's meeting. Preparation of the programme of the Government for the coming session was the Prime Minister intimated, under consideration.

MR. BENNETT ASKS AID TO INDUSTRIES

Appeals for Safeguarding of Agriculture, Labor and Consumers of the Dominion

LIBERALS SUGGEST DIFFERENT POLICY

Declares Federal Ministers Advocate One Policy for East and Another for the West

EDMONTON, Feb. 13.—Appealing for the safeguarding of Canadian agriculture, industry, labor and consumers, Hon. R. B. Bennett leader of the Conservative Opposition in the Dominion House, addressed an Edmonton audience tonight.

The Liberal Government of Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Mr. Bennett charged, had failed to grapple with the problems confronting Canada.

Alleging that the present administration has one policy for the East and another for the West, and declaring that while Hon. W. D. Miller was espousing protectionist principles at Brantford, Hon. Mr. Cregar was in the West advocating free trade, Mr. Bennett pleaded for adoption of a national policy.

LOOK ELSEWHERE

Since the present administration took office, nine years ago, he charged 800,000 Canadians had left the Dominion to seek their livelihood in the United States. They had left Canada, he declared, because the country did not offer opportunities which they could find elsewhere.

As a remedy for this condition, he advocated provincial legislation, which would encourage industry, decrease seasonal unemployment, and give Canadian an equal chance with the people of other nations to develop their own natural resources.

RELIEF SOUGHT IMMEDIATELY ON SCHOOL TAX

Temporary Assistance Requested by Municipalities in Way of Increasing Vote for Teachers

Holdup of Western Union Telegraph Office Ends in Bringing Death to Three

DETROIT, Feb. 13.—A holdup man was killed, two private policemen were fatally wounded and another private policeman and a city patrolman were shot in two gun battles which followed upon an attempt by five men to rob the main office of the Western Union Telegraph Company here tonight.

John Scott, forty-six, and Jesse Callin, thirty, private policemen died at a receiving hospital about two and a half hours after they were wounded in an exchange with the robbers.

Persons in the office, which is in the heart of the city's financial district, said two of the robbers were members of the gang which held up the place on the night of February 4.

The surviving robbers escaped in an automobile, which they set on the street. One of them was believed to have been wounded. A "silent" alarm signal brought the private policemen to the scene from their headquarters above the telegraph office. The dead robber was not immediately identified.

DARING ROBBERY

Three of the holdup men entered the office at 9:30 p.m., ordering seven employees and four customers to stand still and shouting to one employee not to step on the alarm. Another employee, Ash Blues, money order clerk, stepped on the button, which sent an alarm

Sir H. Wilkins Safe and Is to Return to U.S.

(Associated Press)
OSLO, Feb. 13.—A message from Deception Island in the Antarctic Ocean says that Sir Hubert Wilkins, the explorer, is expected there about February 14, aboard the ship William Scoresby. It is said that he is returning to America as soon as possible and will make no flight to the Ross Sea this season.

CHICAGO GETS GUNMEN INTO POLICE TOILS

"Big Shots" of Underworld Among Those Who Have Been Arrested and Held in Jail

DRIVE RESULTS IN CAPTURE OF 2,500

(Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—Indictments were returned against eighteen gunmen, and true bills were reported voted naming five others today, as the police drive against crime went forward with only one bombing and one important robbery being the result of the day.

Most of the 425 hoodlums seized in the round-up last night, including Myles O'Donnell, reputed West Side gang chief, were released today.

O'Donnell, however, was placed under $14,000 bond on a charge of disorderly conduct. Three of his four henchmen, arrested with him, were among those said to be named in true bills for carrying guns. They remained in jail. O'Donnell obtained his freedom because of a weak heart. He fainted when a photographer's flashlight boomed during the police show-up last night.

Bonds of $10,000 each were set for the 425 released. A photograph of the police drive was taken by the police.

ROBBERY PERPETRATED

The robbery of consequence in the last twenty-four hours took place at a building and loan company, $2,064 in cash, which two stick-up men took after surprising him while he was getting the money ready for the bank.

The bombing did $30,000 damage to a wedding and boiler repairing company on the Northwest Side.

Officials of the company said they had no labor troubles and that the bombing could not account for the bombing.

So far this week the police drive has rounded up more than 2,500 suspects, but O'Donnell and his pals were the only "big shots" caught. There have been no gang killings since nearly a week ago, when a series of them, taking seven lives in as many days, led to the campaign against the criminals.

AGED TRAPPER IS SAVED BY POLICE

EDMONTON, Alta., Feb. 13.—In agony from a grave injury to his right eye, George Lux, eighty-year-old trapper, was on the verge of suicide when members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police came to his aid in his lonely cabin, 300 miles from Alibon, on the rim of the Northwest Territories. The aged trapper, helpless for two weeks, told the police: "I had made up my mind to shoot myself."

FILM ACTOR HAS RESTFUL PERIOD

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Feb. 13.—Mr. Noah Beery, motion picture "heavy," spent a restful day and is much better than anticipated, following his operation for appendicitis at the Hollywood Hospital.

A statement issued by his physicians, however, said the crisis in Mr. Beery's illness will not be passed for seventy-two hours.

Church and State Crisis

THE present meeting of the Church Assembly of the Church of England in London bids fair to be one of the most momentous in the church's history. As a result of the deliberations of the clergy and laymen it is expected that a committee will be formed to consider the pros and cons for separating from the State, a move suggested by the most Rev. Dr. Temple (right), Archbishop of York. The Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Cosmo Lang (left), is presiding at the Assembly.

French Delegates Say War Unthinkable Between U.S. Great Britain and France

(Associated Press)
LONDON, Feb. 13.—The text of the French naval memorandum made public today, is in part as follows: "The French delegation, with the same desire of coming to an agreement that inspired the recent declarations of the American and British delegations, considers its duty, at the point reached by the work of the conference, to specify its position as follows:

"When compared to the prewar period France has considerably reduced naval forces.

"On the other hand of all the great naval nations France in 1929 was the only one to have a naval budget inferior to the prewar budget.

"It may, therefore, be said that in the same spirit as Great Britain and without waiting for a possible decision of the present conference, France has already, and in considerable measure, cut down her building programme.

MAKE COMPARISON

"The state of the French fleet on January 1, 1930, compared with August 1, 1914, shows the following differences: Capital ships 350,860 tons less; cruisers and torpedo boats, no change; aircraft carriers 32,146 tons more; submarine 62,328 tons less, making 456,286 tons less.

Minister Says B.C. Has Lost Great Amount

That if all the misappropriations in connection with the Civil Service of British Columbia during the former regime could be discovered, the loss would amount to thousands of dollars, said Hon. J. Hincliffe, in speaking to a motion in the House yesterday regarding dismissal of an employee.

When questioned with regard to the statement by members of the opposition, Mr. Hincliffe believed such an amount would be recoverable if they could only lay their fingers on the persons responsible.

He said that already the Government had caused restitution to be made in a number of cases of misappropriation of public property.

Endeavor to Get President Hindenburg to Refuse His Signature to Young Plan

BUT REFUSAL FELT TO BE CERTAINTY

By EDGAR ANSEL MOWBRER (Copyright, 1930, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service)

BERLIN, Germany, Feb. 13.—Having nearly exhausted all normal means for blocking acceptance of the Young plan, German Nationalists and their meagre allies in other parties, are attempting to persuade the President of the Republic, Paul von Hindenburg, to refuse his signature.

The chief obstacle in President Hindenburg's eyes is thought to be the special agreement with Poland, as the old President was born in a province which now is Polish, and was famous during the war as the "Liberator of the East," and is thought to have none too tender feelings toward the new Poland.

President Hindenburg's active participation in politics is sporadic, but he still has close and friendly relations with those circles which oppose acceptance of the Young plan, and international agreements known as the Young plan. Moreover, when he was drawn to amend the Motor Act so as to relieve motorists from the necessity of reporting accidents to the police when, in the opinion of the motorists, the damage done was slight. The commissioners agreed with him that very undesirable results would follow from the enactment of such an amendment, and went on record as opposing it.

A request was received from the Oak Bay Commission asking for endorsement of its request for legislation requiring all cars to be equipped with automatic speed-regulating devices, which would prevent such cars from being driven at excessive speeds.

Strange Weather Freak Blankets Radio Reception

VANCOUVER, Feb. 13.—One of the most remarkable freaks of atmospheric conditions in Vancouver radio history blanketed reception on Wednesday evening for several hours.

"The blanket came with darkness and blotted out even ordinary distance reception until late in the evening. Local stations and KOMO, KJR and KVI were received as usual, but even the most powerful could get no more than a faint sound of California broadcasters and others usually received.

CONFERENCE IS TOLD OF ALL NEEDED

Proposals of All Powers Are Now Made Known and Discussion Will Centre Around These

ITALIAN DELEGATES MUCH DISAPPOINTED

French Figures Higher Than They Expected and Italy Cannot Hope to Reach Them

(Associated Press)
LONDON, Feb. 13.—The long-expected French pronouncement of naval needs was made today, setting a figure of 724,479 tons by December 31, 1936, as the basis on which the delegation would debate.

The Japanese delegation also made public an outline of its policies, expressing willingness to agree to a holiday in capital ships construction until 1936 and favoring reduction in battleship tonnage to 25,000 tons and in gun calibre to fourteen inches.

The Italian delegation was disappointed in the high total of French fleet requirements, and Signor Dino Grandi, having proclaimed parity with France as the watchword of Italian policy, presumably may announce similar figures as the Italian needs. That, if carried out, would necessitate Italy doubling her present fleet if Franco-Italian parity were to be reached during the life of the proposed London Treaty.

The Italians have announced, however, that they will never build up to the high French figure, but will insist on the right to do so.

BUILDING, NOT LIMITATION

"Some naval circles tonight characterized the French plans as tending toward an annual building programme rather than toward naval limitations.

OAK BAY PLAN ENDORSED BY POLICE BOARD

Automatic Speed Regulators on Certain Cars Approved Of — Reports Necessary

SPECIAL MEETING IN COMING WEEK

The monthly meeting of the Police Commission was held yesterday in the City Hall, Mayor Anscomb presiding. Attention was drawn by Chief of Police Fry to the proposal to amend the Motor Act so as to relieve motorists from the necessity of reporting accidents to the police when, in the opinion of the motorists, the damage done was slight. The commissioners agreed with him that very undesirable results would follow from the enactment of such an amendment, and went on record as opposing it.

A request was received from the Oak Bay Commission asking for endorsement of its request for legislation requiring all cars to be equipped with automatic speed-regulating devices, which would prevent such cars from being driven at excessive speeds.

Jones, Speaker of the Legislature, proceeded to Government House, where they met Hon. R. Randolph Bruce, Lieutenant-Governor of the province, and Miss Helen Mackenzie, who has proved so charming a chaperone of Government House since his Honor took over the duties of his office.

The visit was for the purpose of taking leave of his Honor and Miss Mackenzie, who will leave today en route to England.

Pelliculations were extended to Miss Mackenzie upon her forthcoming marriage, and well wishes extended to her in her new home. To his Honor and Miss Mackenzie were conveyed likewise the hope of a pleasant voyage.

"Yes," mused the famous pitcher, as he was walking the floor with the youngest, "I sure have no control of the bawl."

RELIEF SOUGHT IMMEDIATELY ON SCHOOL TAX

The union, said President E. H. Bridgman, felt that education was a service, the cost of which should be borne by the entire community, but many do not at present contribute anything directly to its maintenance, and others are unduly overcharged.

President Bridgman expressed the keen appreciation of the union of the consideration given during the past year to this question by Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, Minister of Education, and expressed the hope that the Municipal Council would both endorse and support the union's petition.

Mr. Reginald Hayward, chairman of the committee, asked President Bridgman and the other delegates of the union that the committee would give careful consideration to the union's proposals.

COSTLY SERVICE
Mr. R. P. Blandy, municipal clerk of Oak Bay, said that education was the most costly public service of the province. He told the committee that out of $45,000,000 expended annually, the services of $11,500,000 were for educational purposes. The municipalities contributed $6,800,000 of this latter amount.

The chief source of municipal revenue was the tax on real property, which had become increasingly irksome and unpopular. This tax has now grown to $16,500,000 a year. Of this tax, no less than $7,000,000 was required in 1928 for school purposes. In forty-two of the sixty-one cities and districts, the school tax exceeds 40 per cent of the levy.

Mr. Blandy said that municipal expenditures were growing more and more and were increasing more rapidly than the corresponding revenues, and could only be met by increasing the already burdensome taxation on real property. In other words, the municipal revenue system was ineffectual and therefore unsatisfactory, he maintained.

INADEQUACY OF SYSTEM
Illustrating his claim, Mr. Blandy showed that the taxable assessment of the municipalities in 1921, after allowing for the 50 per cent statutory exemption for improvements, was $455,000,000. In 1929 it was $467,000,000. The increased assessment, even at 40 mills, would only yield $480,000, but during the period it was found necessary to increase the real property tax by $2,600,000. That reveals the inadequacy of the present system.

"This condition cannot go on indefinitely. It is a problem which is becoming increasingly difficult, and is not only acute in this portion of British Columbia, but throughout the entire province. We have a most inequitable system of taxation, and we feel confident that we have a case which urgently calls for some attention," Mr. Blandy declared.

Reeve T. Reid, of Surrey, pointed out that the curriculum for the schools was prepared and arranged by the government, and he felt that education was a matter of provincial and Dominion. He said that at one time land was the basis of wealth, but asserted that such was not the case today. Instancing the fact that a farmer's income was described as the gross value of the present system, he stated that the school tax paid by a group of farmers in one municipality averaged 18 per cent of their incomes, while the same tax paid by another group of merchants, salaried persons and wage earners amounted to less than 1 per cent of their incomes.

Reeve Crouch, of Saanich, endorsed the proposals suggested by the union. He remarked that taxes on real property were the heaviest at the point where the land could no longer bear it. He recognized that if the taxes were taken off the land, the burden must be placed elsewhere, and urged that the Municipal Committee decide some method of relief.

FEDERAL RESPONSIBILITY
Councillor Lambert, of Burnaby, contended that the Federal Government, by its action in making grants for technical education, had thus admitted its liability in educational matters, and he urged that pressure be brought on the Federal administration for it to render assistance to public school and high school education.

The situation was indeed serious, said President Bridgman, "when we find some municipalities where school taxes take 40 mills on the dollar. In the meantime, we ask for temporary relief. We feel that by placing the matter in the hands of a select committee of the House, to report back to the Legislature at the 1931 session, it would take it out of the hands of politics."

Mr. L. A. Hanna, Liberal, Alberni, considered that the proposals submitted by the union delegation should be referred to a select committee of the House Municipal Committee to "see, if possible, a remedy can be arrived at."

The committee endorsed this view, and will give full consideration to the representations. The committee adjourned until the call of the chair.

POLICE COURT CASES

When charges were presented in the city police court, yesterday, against five local fish dealers of offering for sale clams under the size called for by law, Mr. J. A. Tait, who appeared for the accused, asked for dismissal on the ground that the summonses had been made returnable in less than the legal number of days after they were served. This statement was not disputed by the prosecution and the cases were dismissed by Magistrate George Jay.

Chung, Chinese, was convicted of selling liquor to Indians, and was sentenced to six months' imprisonment.

Pao being intoxicated in a public place, Dan Latham, with a previous conviction recorded against him, was sentenced to twenty days' hard labor. John Morrison on a similar charge pleaded not guilty and was remanded until today.

French Delegates Say War Unthinkable Between U.S. Great Britain and France

"It should be further pointed out that of all the navies in the world the French navy was the only one not to build anything from 1914 to 1929, her dockyards being busy during the war making ammunition for France and her allies. That is the reason why she has been obliged to keep in active service beyond the age limit an important tonnage of old ships, especially battleships and cruisers. If, as proposed by the communiqué published by the American and British delegations, the powers represented at the conference were to take as the ground of their agreement establishment of a building programme running from 1930 to 1935, the French delegation would be willing to accept this method with the double reserve that the four other powers would do the same and the French Parliament would ratify her decision.

"The French fleet on December 31, 1936, might then be made up as follows: capital ships owning under the Washington substitution rules, 52; 791; cruisers of 10,000 tons, 100,000; old cruisers mounting guns with a calibre over eight inches, 24,850; light ships (cruisers mounting guns 6" cal.).

with a calibre of six inches or under), destroyers, torpedo boats, etc., 268,597; aircraft carriers, 32,146; submarines, 96,629; total, 724,479 English tons.

"The only suggestions and figures so far produced being those presented by the American and British delegations, the French delegation wishes to add to its answer that it was felt its duty to give the following statement to declare that France has witnessed with warm sympathy the efforts made by the United States and Great Britain to prepare, after thorough consideration of their mutual political relations, reductions in their naval armaments. Just as the American and British Governments were in consequence able to declare that war between the two nations was unthinkable, France also is happy to declare her proud conviction that between her people and those of the United States and of the British Empire any armed conflict is equally unthinkable. Her naval programme as well as her economic programme is a strictly defensive policy in conformity with the international agreements to which she is a party, particularly the Briand-Kellogg pact."

tie. The majority of the land, except for its timber, has value for no other purpose.

2. That to look up this huge area can serve no useful purpose, because such a course is not at all necessary for the protection of the watershed. The predecessor in ownership, the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Waterworks Company, at no time sought the powers or pursued such selfish or useless policy.

3. It is not in the interests of the public to make this huge area a reserve, since we now have more sanctuaries than can be adequately managed by the force and staff of persons responsible for enforcement on Vancouver Island.

4. The power sought for would create many offenders, innocent and otherwise, as against the provisions of enforcing the same. The boundaries of the area are indefinite, undeterminable, and unless boundaries are clearly defined it cannot be expected that they will be respected.

5. In any case, the time is premature for the enforcement of any such rigorous remedies, during the next period of five or ten years the greater area of this watershed will be almost entirely under the control of the province and Dominion. He said that at one time land was the basis of wealth, but asserted that such was not the case today. ## Superannuation In Manitoba for School Teachers

WINNIPEG, Feb. 13.—Manitoba will fall into line with other provinces in providing a superannuation fund for school teachers of the province. The bill was introduced in the Legislature by Hon. R. A. Hoey, Minister of Education, today. An act providing for the scheme will be brought up at the present session.

Mr. Hoey said, but he was not prepared to give out details.

Mr. Hoey made this announcement in committee, while budget estimates for the Department of Education were under consideration. He said that unless action was taken, Manitoba might soon be in the unenviable position of being the only province in Canada without a plan whereby teachers can be paid from a superannuation fund when they retire after years of service. Estimates totaling $5,544,675.07 for education were passed in committee.

driven at greater speed than a maximum to be fixed.

Commissioner Staneland mentioned that there was a widespread tendency toward the adoption of such devices in the case of cars hired to be driven by chance customers. Some "drive yourself" companies had voluntarily placed such instruments on their cars. The head of one of these had told him that this had resulted in a substantial saving to his company in wear and tear of the cars and in gasoline.

After some further discussion, the commission decided to accede to the request for endorsement of the Oak Bay proposal, and suggested thirty-five miles an hour as the maximum speed to be allowed by the automatic regulating device.

TRAFFIC CONDITIONS
On motion of Commissioner McGavin, it was decided to ask the City Council to tie the drain and improve the drainage of the intersection of Hillside Avenue and Shelbourne Street.

A letter from the Automobile Club was read, asking for some remedy for the dangerous condition said to exist at the intersection of Courtney and Government Streets. It was decided to ask the City Council to tie the drain and improve the drainage of the intersection of Hillside Avenue and Shelbourne Street.

PROTECTING INDUSTRIES
When the purchase of the new motor truck authorized by the council came up, the three commissioners brought forward economic principles much debated by high protectionists, free traders and moderate protectionists, respectively. Commissioner Staneland said that while they would have to buy chassis made somewhere else, he was in favor of purchasing a Victoria-built body for the car. Commissioner McGavin thought that the interests of the taxpayers demanded that they should consider buying wherever they could get what was wanted at the lowest possible price.

Major Anson was in favor of buying a Victoria-made body, even if it cost a little more, provided the difference was not too much. Commissioner Staneland estimated the difference at not more than $50, but Commissioner McGavin doubted whether it would not be more when all the accessories were installed.

In the course of the second day's debate, the opinion was expressed and implied that under the Young plan Germany "practically" becomes a debtor to the United States. Former Chancellor Hugo Wirth expressed the hope that some day there will come Americans who will not use "all possibilities capitalistically to squeeze all they can from Germany and Europe, but who will be moved by ethical principles." This would seem to be a confirmation of the hypothesis expressed months ago that the first effect of the Young plan would be to unite Germany with the Allies in their debt attitude toward the United States.

DIVISION IS PARTY ONE ON INQUIRY

not as much concerned as to what others did not do.

He wanted this inquiry conducted in a fair way. The Premier had given the assurance that this was to be done. The word of the Prime Minister went a long way in this regard.

He was glad to hear Mr. Shelly say he would do nothing in the appointment of the commission. There were, he felt, many fair-minded men in the Civil Service who would give Norman Watt a fair deal.

With a parliamentary investigation with "all kinds of political stunts" put on, there would not be as fair a deal as that by the method now proposed. It would be far less judicial in its conclusions.

He did not believe that Mr. Watt intentionally retained these funds. When all the other officials turned in these fees there must have been laxity on the part of the old Government in informing officials on this matter.

Whether Mr. Watt was misinformed or misguided, Colonel Peck felt that as a man who did great service to the country and a sick man, that a Christian view should be taken of this situation and re-instate Mr. Watt.

The war had the effect of widening out men who served there. Men who had been regarded as "tough characters" (and he did not refer to Mr. Watt) showed wonderful valor when the occasion demanded it. Even if Mr. Watt did wrong, he would like to see him reinstated.

Mr. Ian Mackenzie extended congratulations to Colonel Peck and to Colonel Spencer for the nonpartisan views expressed.

When Mr. Mackenzie attacked the views of Mr. Twigg and Hon. R. L. Maitland, the latter took the point of order that he had not spoken on the motion.

The Speaker ruled Mr. Mackenzie out of order.

CIVIL SERVICE BLUDGEON
Mr. Mackenzie, in speaking of the Public Inquiries Act passed by the late Government, recalled attacks made by the then Opposition in which this act was described as a bludgeon to be held over the heads of the Civil Service.

He argued that no other minister but the Minister of Finance could appoint this commission. He would have to resign and a new Minister of Finance would have to be appointed if this were to be avoided. He felt the Minister of Finance did not wish to appoint the judge to try this issue. If the Government would give the assurance that a judge of the courts would be appointed as the commissioner it would be acceptable.

The House was agreed that there should be a fair nonpartisan inquiry into the matter.

Mr. H. D. Twigg said he stood by the remarks he made on the act when it was introduced. It was not until the bill was amended on representation of himself and Mr. Pooley, by which an accused public servant might have counsel and was otherwise protected that it was made as it now was.

Mr. Twigg argued further that the appointment of the commissioner lay with the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council.

Mr. W. R. Rutledge felt that a lot of time was being wasted by the Opposition tactics in the House. The people of the country were inquiring as to what was being done. Mr. Rutledge referred to men who had been dismissed by the late Government without any reasons being given. If a royal commission was to be appointed that would go into all kinds of dismissals he would favor it.

On a division being called for, the amendment was defeated and the motion of Colonel Spencer carried.

The vote was a straight party one of the members in the House with the Liberals against the motion and in favor of the amendment.

Commenting on the Mexican treatment of the departing Soviet envoy, Ivestia says: "Mexico obeyed the instructions of its foreign masters." It suggests that the search of the Russian Embassy in Mexico City may be followed by the public.

does make up his mind he cannot be dissuaded from trying to put his ideas into effect.

SEEMS UNTHINKABLE
The result of such refusal to sign the bill passed by the Reichstag, would mean killing the bill, and new elections could only be possible if the President himself decided to dissolve the Reichstag. But in view of his expression of gratitude to the German delegation when it returned from The Hague, his refusal seems to be almost unthinkable.

In the course of the second day's debate, the opinion was expressed and implied that under the Young plan Germany "practically" becomes a debtor to the United States. Former Chancellor Hugo Wirth expressed the hope that some day there will come Americans who will not use "all possibilities capitalistically to squeeze all they can from Germany and Europe, but who will be moved by ethical principles." ## STANDARDS OF JUDGING ARE MADE HIGHER

District Exhibits Subject of Discussion at B.C. Fair Association's Annual Meeting

EXHIBITS MUST BE JUDGED ON MERITS

At the afternoon session of the British Columbia Fair Association, which was held in New Westminster last Tuesday, a lengthy discussion took place upon the vexed subject of standards of judging fruits, vegetables, field crops and district exhibits. Regarding the last named, a letter was read from Mr. C. Tice, provincial agronomist, which covered the question very fully. It was finally decided that the executive should take the matter up with Mr. Tice at an early date.

Mr. Tice's letter follows: "For some time I have been of the opinion that some change is desirable in the judging of the district exhibits at our fairs if interest in this section is to be maintained. The reason for this is largely because the score cards in the prize lists call for products which are not commonly produced in certain sections. As a result of this, products frequently are secured from outside sources or from plots especially planted out in the district."

OBJECT OF EXHIBITS
"One cannot blame the exhibitors for this, as it is essential for them to follow such methods in order to enable the district to compete for the points which are provided in the prize list. This being the case, it follows that each district exhibit will display similar products. The real object of a district exhibit, as I understand it, is to display the products for which a district is famous or is growing in a commercial way. All other products should be of secondary importance. By following this system, the visitor to the fair can immediately see, at a glance, what products can be produced in the various districts in a

IF YOUR EARS RING WITH HEAD NOISES

If you have roaring, buzzing noises in your ears, are getting hard of hearing and fear Catarrhal Deafness, go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Par-mint (double strength), and add to it 1/4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Closed nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal trouble of the ears, is hard of hearing or has head noises should give this prescription a trial. (Adv.)

commercial way. To my mind, it is in this that the district exhibit has its chief value from an advertising and educational standpoint. The question then arises: Can district exhibits be judged on a fair competitive basis? Personally, I do not believe they can if they are to be of any real value. For this reason I would like to recommend for the consideration of the British Columbia Fair Association that each district exhibit be judged on its individual merits and prizes awarded on that basis."

STRICTER STANDARDS

A resolution was adopted which provided that in judging field crops, vegetables and fruits, only judges who follow standards set down by the Department of Agriculture in Circular No. 50 should be eligible. It was shown to be impossible to adopt the same course in regard to flowers, as the agricultural department had not established a standard for the province and the Royal Horticultural Society standard was usually followed.

The general staging and scoring of the district exhibits was the subject of a lengthy discussion, in which connection Mr. D. E. MacKenzie pointed out that the list of produce contained in the schedule had been compiled by the most experienced agronomists in Canada, at the same time stressing the educational and advertising value of the districts.

BARGE QUESTION COMES TO END

Rejection of Motion for Return of Papers Terminates Debate on Dismissal of Former Employee

The motion in the House for the return of all papers connected with the investigation into Mr. J. L. Barge, of Queen Charlotte City, following his dismissal from the Government service was another of the motions brought forward in opposition which suffered violence at the hands of the members yesterday afternoon, helping thus to clear the order paper. From the Government side the resolution proposed was described as simply a move on the part of the Opposition to find where the information relative to the charges preferred against Mr. Barge had originated.

The administration took the ground that this was a reformer's motion that no government should be expected to supply, and which was never revealed by the former ministry.

The debate on the motion was resumed yesterday by Mr. A. M. Manson, who praised the broad view which Col. G. W. Peck, V.C., had taken earlier in the afternoon on another motion. The splendid record of Col. Peck overseas and his wide experience there had given him an advantage, Mr. Manson pointed, over some of the rest of the members in widening his viewpoint.

Mr. Manson took the position that the charges of wrong doing on the part of Mr. Barge were so trivial that they should never have been considered serious.

When Mr. Manson suggested that a personal notice should have been sent Mr. Barge, the Prime Minister asked him if it was suggested that Mr. Manson said this man did not know of the investigation which had been advertised. Mr. Manson went on to explain that the postal service was not very good to Queen Charlotte City, and he had not the opportunity of getting counsel. He argued that the investigation should have been made by a member of the service.

Hon. J. Hinchliffe pointed out that the motion did not call for reinstatement of Mr. Barge. It was only a resolution which sought to obtain the information as to who informed the Government. There had been, he pointed out, revealed since the new Government came into power, a number of instances of persons misappropriating public property improperly. Restitution had been made in some cases. If all of them could be discovered, he felt that the loss to the province would have been found to have amounted to hundreds of thousands of dollars. This would be recoverable if they could only lay their finger on the misdeeds.

In closing the debate, the Leader of the Opposition asked the Prime Minister if he had any information at the time of the dismissal of the official. The Premier in reply said that the Government had no information to warrant going ahead. Mr. Pattullo said that the official was dismissed, and then a commission was appointed to find a reason for it. He said that on his honor he could state that a grave injustice had been done an old resident of the district.

The motion for the return was defeated on a straight party vote of the House.

Senate Confirms Appointment of Mr. C. E. Hughes

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Mr. Charles Evans Hughes was confirmed today by the Senate as Chief Justice of the United States. The vote in favor of Mr. Hughes was 53 to 26. Fourteen Democrats and thirty-eight Republicans voted for confirmation, while ten Republicans were supported by sixteen Democrats in opposition.

The vote of confirmation came after the Senate had rejected a move to send the nomination back to its Judiciary Committee for reconsideration.

Bill Shakespeare, then on the engraving department of the New York American, was scooped by one of the big shots of the outfit on a tour of inspection.

"Let me see," let me see," said the executive, "what is your name again?"

"William Shakespeare, sir," replied Bill.

"Um, quite a well-known name, eh?"

"Ought to be," said Bill brightly. "I've been around here twenty-five years."—The Mirror.

TO REPRESENT MINISTERS OF LEGISLATURES

Prairie Provinces Will Send Representatives to Coming Conference on Agriculture

PRODUCTION WILL BE TALKED OVER

(Canadian Press)
WINNIPEG, Feb. 13.—Prairie Provinces will be represented at the Ottawa parley, March 11 and 12, to devise means of increasing bacon, butter, eggs and cheese production throughout Canada.

Invitations were sent out from the Dominion Department of Agriculture to Canadian Provincial Governments. Due to Legislatures being in session it is improbable that Ministers of Agriculture will go to Ottawa from the Prairies.

EXPRESS APPROVAL
Hon. George Hoadley and Hon. Albert Prefontaine, Ministers of Agriculture for Alberta and Manitoba, today expressed strong approval of the purpose of the conference. Mr. Hoadley considered that some date in April would be more convenient for Western representatives, but promised that an Alberta delegate would attend. Either Mr. J. H. Evans, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, or Mr. L. A. Gibson, manager of the dairy branch, will represent Manitoba.

Hon. W. C. Buckley, Saskatchewan Minister of Agriculture, intimated he understood a general conference for the improvement of all agriculture produce would be held in Ottawa in March, and stated that Saskatchewan would be represented. No invitation to the March 11 to 12 parley has yet been received in Regina, he mentioned.

Particulars Of Hold-Ups Unpublished

VANCOUVER, Feb. 13.—Mayor W. H. Malkin, chairman of the Police Commission, today told the City Council that if they knew the real facts concerning confessions of fictitious hold-ups reported to the commission yesterday by Chief of Police Bingham, they, "as men," would not want the names disclosed.

The mayor's statement was made after a motion had been presented and seconded calling on the police committee of the City Council to ask the Chief of Police to make public the names of those who had reported fictitious hold-ups. The motion was finally withdrawn.

Mayor Malkin said that the facts, publicly known, would reflect on a number of women and young girls, and it would be a hardship, viewed in a humane light, to disclose them.

SOAP COMPANY IS DEFENDANT IN SUIT

Action Is Brought by Purchasers of Business for Rescind Contract—$5,000 Refund Asked

Hubert James Seatts and James McQuarrie Murray are suing John Marshall Young and the Glycerine Soap Company, Limited, in the Supreme Court, and are asking for the return of $5,000 paid under a contract to purchase the company's business, and also for a rescission of the contract.

Plaintiffs allege that the contract was entered into by them by reason of representations made to them as to the position of the company's business and as to its possession of a trade mark and secret process of manufacture, which representations plaintiffs declare to have been contrary to the fact. Defendants enter a general denial, asserting that the contract was not entered into because of the alleged representations, and that any representations made were either correct in fact or, if incorrect, were made innocently.

Hearing of the action opened yesterday before Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald. Mr. Norman W. Whitaker, appearing for the plaintiff, and Mr. J. B. Clearhough for the defendant.

CONFERENCE IS TOLD OF ALL NEEDED

The French statement sends the London Conference to the bed-rock of tonnage figures, and it is likely that long and tedious negotiations will largely occupy the Five-Power delegations from now on.

Rushing breathlessly into the conference room of St. James Palace tonight, where newsmen of all nations awaited him, M. Tardieu demanded a cigarette from one man, a light from another and reeled off in voluble French his country's naval needs. At the end he thanked his hearers, hoped they would consider his statement with sympathetic interest and rushed off before he could be questioned.

Tomorrow morning he will go to Paris, returning Tuesday to see what the conference has done about the French demands.

JAPAN'S OMISSION

Omission of Japan's insistent demand for a 70 per cent ratio of larger cruisers was not especially commented upon by the American delegation, where it is generally considered that eventual settlement of this problem will be by a system of varied ratio compromises which will satisfy Japan, Great Britain and the United States.

But the Japanese ratios, technical committee work and all other activities of the conference will remain in the background until the French tonnage requirements are fitted into the general scheme of a disarmament programme.

It was learned authoritatively tonight that Premier Tardieu's interpretation of the French demand for high tonnage figures is that France will not surrender her naval security merely to aid in agreement between Great Britain and the United States.

NOT FULLY PROTECTED

The French leader maintains that France is not fully protected by three international pacts. He affirms that the League of Nations Covenant is rendered ineffective by Article 16; the Locarno Treaty, by failing to mention naval matters, and the Kellogg-Briand pact, by having no "teeth."

He gave these points of comment before going to Paris tomorrow to face a critical debate in the French Chamber of Deputies.

For Scout Building Fund
At the home of Mrs. T. J. Lague, Nanaimo, a tea was held yesterday in aid of the Scout building fund, which was substantially increased by the proceeds of the tea. Mrs. Hollingsworth and Mrs. T. J. Lague were joint conveners, while Mrs. Dawe, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary, received the many guests. The tea table was appropriately centred by a model log hut with a tiny Union Jack flying from the flagstaff. This hut and the Troop and Pack colors flanking the Union Jack were effective decorations. Mrs. W. W. Gray and Mrs. Fred Busby poured the tea. Mrs. R. T. Wilson convoked the home cooking. Mrs. Lawrence was cashier and had charge of the drawings. Those serving were Mrs. Hughes, Miss Ruth Foster and Marjorie Lague. Miss Callaghan was well applauded and encored when she favored with several expressive recitations. The winners of the drawing were: Pillowcase, won by Mrs. Merrifield; tea cloth, won by Norman Baker; hair trim and mangle by the La France Beauty Shop, won by Mrs. Lawrence. Prizes for free guessing contests were won by Mrs. J. Wilson and Miss Jessie Loveridge. The success of the party goes a good way towards making the Scout Hall a fact.

MANY GUESTS AT SAANICH WEDDING

Miss Janet V. Sherring Becomes Bride of Mr. Charles H. Borden at Mount Newton

KEATING, Feb. 12.—A wedding of interest to many Saanich residents was solemnized at St. Andrew's Church, on Wednesday evening, by Rev. J. S. A. Bastin in the presence of a large number of friends, when Janet Victoria, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Sherring, became the bride of Mr. Charles H. Borden, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Borden, Lake Hill.

The church had been prettily decorated for the occasion by girl friends of the bride with early Spring blossoms, pussy willows and greenery. The bride, who entered the church in the arm of her father, wore a beautiful hand-embroidered lace veil, family heirloom, which was held to the head, cap style, with a strand of orange blossoms. Her shower bouquet was of Ophelia roses, freesias and fern. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. W. Hulme, as matron of honor, daintily gowned in shrimp colored flat crepe with hat of blue mohair, with streamers of the two shades, and as bridesmaid by Miss Winnifred Borden, sister of the groom, gowned in a frock of powder blue georgette with mohair hat to match. Their flowers were cream chrysanthemums and fern.

The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Fred Borden, and the ushers were Mr. W. Hulme and Mr. Osmond Sherring. During the ceremony, Mrs. McMullin sang a solo and Mrs. Bastin played the wedding march.

Following the ceremony a largely attended reception was held at Temperance Hall, which had been prettily decorated. The bride and groom were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Sherring, in a gown of black satin with touches of henna and hat en suite, and Mrs. Borden, in a becoming gown of navy blue crepe de Chine with hat to match. The numerous beautiful presents were on display in the dining-hall. A buffet supper was served during the evening, the bride's table being centred with a handsome four-tier wedding cake and ornamented with pink candles in silver sconces. The toast to the bride and groom was proposed by Mr. Bastin and responded to by the groom. The couple left on the midnight boat for Vancouver, en route by motor to California. For travelling the bride wore a gown of royal blue crepe de Chine, with a coat of blue silk broadcloth, trimmed with French seal, and hat of blue felt to match. The groom's gift to the bride was a white gold wrist watch, to the bride's attendant pearls, to the best man a tiepin, to the organist a plant, and the soloist a coat ring to the ushers gold cuff links. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Borden will reside at Lake Hill.

Eventually it was decided not to endorse this resolution. A letter was received from the School of Expression, Victoria, suggesting a

There is a new beauty about many of the new frocks it is a dramatic beauty that needs pose, charm and grace to do it justice. One cannot imagine a hoydenish person insisting on retaining all her tomboy mannerisms if she chooses a gown of sumptuous fabric cut on long sweeping lines. As an example of the mode at its best we cite the lovely frocks here shown. The straight slim bodies of silver and green lame, while the deep V-neck decolletage and the wide flared skirt adds a crisp bouffant note is of black tulle. A cluster of flowers marks the base of the black decolletage, a novel and pretty touch. Despite the flare, this dress retains the true princess lines, as do most of the latest evening frocks.

To Be Married Tomorrow

—Photograph by Easthope.

MISS KATHLEEN ROSS

The marriage of Miss Kathleen Roselle Ross, daughter of Mr. R. C. Ross, of Victoria, to Mr. Herbert Bevan, son of Mr. H. W. Bevan, of Duncan, will take place tomorrow at St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, at 2 o'clock.

The bridesmaids will be Misses Loughheed, the Misses Tolmie, Mrs. Whitmore, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. L. Andrews, Mrs. Harvey, Mrs. Whillans, Mrs. Helen, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Ross, of the late Mr. Wilbert Elley and Mrs. A. Elley, formerly of Fernie, B.C. Rev. A. L. Nixon officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charming in a going-away costume of navy blue tulle, with a smart, close-fitting hat of black. She carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations. Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Kathleen Jackson, of Vancouver, who wore a pretty frock of green figured crepe de Chine, and carried a bouquet of tawny yellow chrysanthemums.

The groom's family was represented by his sister, Mrs. Brodigan, of Linden Avenue, Victoria. His mother, who is ill in Vancouver, was unable to attend. Miss Eileen Bennett presided at the organ and, as the party entered the church, played the "Bridal March" from "Johannin".

During the signing of the register, Miss Bennett sang very sweetly "Until, the part leaving the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's 'Wedding March'."

The young couple were the recipients of many beautiful gifts. The groom's gift to the bride was a wrist watch; to the bridesmaid, a necklace; to the best man, gold cuff links. The bride's gift to the groom was a wrist watch. Immediately following the ceremony, the young people, almost the entire party accompanying them, motored to Victoria, where they embarked on the afternoon boat for Vancouver, and for the present will make their home at the Grovenor Hotel.

Presentation Made to Regent of Chapter

At the annual meeting of the Navy League Chapter, I.O.D.E., held yesterday afternoon at headquarters, Mrs. J. Hebdon Gillespie, on behalf of the members of the chapter, presented Mrs. Mortimer Appleby, the regent, with a handsome gold wrist watch and a lovely bouquet of flowers in appreciation of her untiring efforts on behalf of the chapter for so many years. Mrs. Appleby acknowledged the gift with a few gracious remarks.

The annual reports read by the secretary and treasurer, showed that a most successful year had been enjoyed and that the children's annual fancy dress ball had been an even greater success. Donations had been given to the secondary education fund, the soldiers' graves, war memorial, Seamen's Institute and Sea Cadets of the Boys' Central School. Standing votes of sympathy for the speaker of the day were given to the secondary education fund, the soldiers' graves, war memorial, Seamen's Institute and Sea Cadets of the Boys' Central School.

Plumb; second vice-regent, Mrs. Whitaker; secretary, Mrs. Sidney Wood; treasurer, Mrs. E. Weston; Echoes secretary, Mrs. Aubrey Kent; educational secretary, Mrs. Alice Thomson; standard bearer, Mrs. T. Cashmore. Plans were discussed for a bridge tea to be held at the home of Mrs. T. Mrs. E. Heyes has left for Princeport, after spending a few days here with relatives.

The Altar Society's whist drive drew a large crowd on Monday evening, when the winners were Father McEldan, Mrs. T. Battle, Mrs. J. Patterson and Mrs. Spinto.

The Young People's Association had a jolly social in St. John's Hall last Friday. Whist, a guessing contest and a dance afterwards were much enjoyed. The lucky ones were A. Harrop and D. Sharp, who won the prizes for card games, and M. Callin and D. Sharp were the best guessers. The members of the Y.P.A. are now busy with rehearsals for a concert and dramatic entertainment.

The partner whist drive put on by the high school students took place last Friday evening in the A.O.P. Hall. Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Thomson and Mrs. W. Akenhead and Mrs. J. King were the prize winners. Refreshments were enjoyed at the close of the games.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Louche have had their daughter and granddaughter visiting them from Vancouver. Mrs. and Miss Bellamy returned home on Tuesday.

Mr. B. Russell has returned from Ladysmith, where he has been convalescing for a week with his sister, Mrs. Elsie Carmichael. (Mrs. Russell was very badly hurt before Christmas when he was hit by a falling snag while employed at Baylis camp, and has only recently left the Duncan hospital.)

Mrs. M. E. Bailey and her son Arthur, accompanied by Mrs. P. M. Sunderland and Master Sunderland, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. S. Lomas.

It is with regret that the residents learned of Mrs. J. Riton's death on Thursday morning at Tranquille. Mrs. Riton was very well known, having until three years ago attended the public school in this district.

During the week Mrs. W. F. Grockie entertained with a series of charmingly-arranged card parties. On Thursday afternoon two tables of bridge were played, when Mrs. Keast was the successful winner of the first prize. Mrs. Bishop winning the second prize.

Again on Thursday evening Mrs. Grockie entertained three tables of five hundred. During the serving of the dainty refreshments the hostess presented Mrs. H. T. Har-

YACHT CLUB DANCE SET FOR TONIGHT
The final touches have been put upon the arrangements for tonight's Valentine ball at the Royal Victoria Yacht Club. The clubhouse in Cadboro Bay has been most beautifully decorated for the occasion with festoons of signal flags and balloons in the dance room, and red and white flowers, hearts and Valentine favors in the supper room. The dancing starts at 8 p.m. and dancers are requested to make supper reservations with Mrs. George Cooney, at the clubhouse, as early as possible.

Members are asked to take particular notice of the time and place of the next meeting, which will be held on Wednesday, February 26, in the K. of G. Hall, Government Street. An initiation of new members will take place, after which a social time will be enjoyed to celebrate the birthday of Post No. 3. Mrs. W. A. Waters and the members of the entertainment committee have an interesting programme planned.

Chemainus
On Tuesday afternoon, a number of Saltair ladies met at the home of Mrs. F. Thicke, to consider the possibility of forming a branch of the Women's Institute in that district. Mrs. Chambers, president of the Cedar branch, attended the meeting to explain proceedings and assist in the work of organization. It was agreed that a Saltair branch be formed, meetings to be held monthly at the homes of members. The following officers were elected: Mrs. F. Thicke, president; Mrs. Troop, secretary; and Mrs. F. Thicke, treasurer. It was also decided that the next meeting be held at the home of Mrs. Corbin. At the close of the meeting a dainty tea was served by Mrs. Thicke.

Dr. and Mrs. H. B. Rogers and Master Harry Rogers visited Victoria recently to bid bon voyage to relatives who were sailing for Australia.

Mrs. Koch, of St. Paul, Minn., has for some time past been the guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Koch.

Mrs. H. E. Heslip entertained recently at a Valentine tea, the occasion being the birthday of her daughter, Miss Doris Heslip.

B.C. Native Daughters Plan Social Affair
The February business meeting of Post No. 3, Native Daughters of British Columbia, was held on Tuesday evening in the Alexandra Club with the chief factor, Mrs. S. J. Stirling, in the chair. A visiting member, Mrs. S. G. Crowe, of Post No. 1, Vancouver, was introduced to the members. Later in the evening, Mrs. Crowe, who was instituting a description of those first meetings, was also made of several branches of work carried on by her home post.

A report of the first session of the thirty-fifth annual meeting of the Local Council of Women was given by Vice-Factor Miss H. Neelands. Miss M. Chown reported that the library fund was steadily growing. The members were pleased to hear from Mrs. Mary Spencer Palmer, to whom the post sent flowers during her recent illness, that she was convalescing at home.

Letters of thanks were received from the twelve pioneer women to whom the Native Daughters presented colonial bouquets at the opening session of Parliament. By unanimous vote of the post Mrs. Dennis Harris, a granddaughter of Sir James Douglas and a charter member of Post No. 3, was elected a life member of the society.

Mrs. J. C. Newbury introduced a resolution dealing with Ripple Rock, Seymour Narrows. It was decided to seek the co-operation of Post No. 1, Native Sons of British Columbia, and to approach the proper authorities concerned.

Arrangements are being made for two social functions for the early Spring. The first will be a card party under the joint sponsorship of Mrs. C. McDonald and Miss A. Mason. Mrs. P. T. Waters has charge of prizes, and the refreshments are in the hands of Mrs. Champion, Mrs. Lorimer, Mrs. McIntosh, Mrs. E. Grant, Miss H. Neelands and Miss Lorimer. The second function will be a daffodil tea at Easter time.

Members are asked to take particular notice of the time and place of the next meeting, which will be held on Wednesday, February 26, in the K. of G. Hall, Government Street. An initiation of new members will take place, after which a social time will be enjoyed to celebrate the birthday

It was this ageing which ruined her one genuine attempt to get away. She refused to acknowledge it to herself, fought it to the best of her ability. Missie could always remember, in a day when soap and water and Providence were supposed to care for a woman's skin, Stella sitting before the walnut dresser and rubbing cream into her face. When she had finished, she wiped it off carefully and then powdered. Then she carefully brushed and dressed her abundant hair, and her care of her body became almost a passion with her.

Did she hope that Lambert would come back to her? What did she think of in the long, wakeful nights? Her children never knew. She remained to the end unfathomable. They had no background for her, outside of the little house; Ellen did not remember her own father, and when the time came for them to wonder, Stella had carried the past with her where no questioning was of any avail.

There was but one bit of illumination; and that was when she started out one day, taking Missie with her. Lambert had not been home for two days, and although the fare on the horse cars was only a nickel, they walked into the business part of the town.

Stella had made an unusually careful toilet. It was winter, and she wore a long black velvet cloak. Over her shoulders was one of the very short light fur cape of the period, and her hands were thrust into a tiny muff. Her small bonnet sat high on top of her hair, and from beneath it came a heavy bang twisted into a row of small, flat curls. Even Missie noticed that men on the streets looked at her with interest.

But Stella was not looking for admiration, not that day, at least. Missie was breathless when at last they reached an alley and turned into it. There was a door there and a man on guard, but he let them in.

"Hardly knew you at first," she said. "Miss Beaumont's expecting you."

"Have I changed like that?" said Stella, suddenly arch.

"Handsome than ever, I'd say," said the door man, and there was a bit of color in Stella's face as they went in.

It was a queer place in which Missie suddenly found herself. The wings of a theatre during a burlesque show of the '30s; a gas-lighted untidy place, filled with men and women.

When Miss Beaumont appeared it was to show decided shock at Stella's appearance.

"Why Stella, you poor thing!" she said. "Whatever have you done to yourself? You haven't been sick, have you?"

Stella did not tell Ellen about that visit. Ellen was a big girl now, sixteen. After school hours—she was in the high school—she would tidy Stella's disorderly house with a sort of detached efficiency. She hated disorder. But that night, drying the dishes for her, Missie said out of a clear sky:

"I hate men."

"Why?" said Ellen, scraping at a frying pan.

"Men and boys too."

"You'll get over that. Some of them are all right."

Lambert did not come home that night, and when Missie went into her mother's room to say good night, she found her before the mirror, surveying herself from under swollen eyelids.

Missie lay in bed that night sleepless. Men were cruel, hard and cruel.

You worked for them; you put in their studs and cuff links, and saved the cream for them, and you watched when the steak was cut whether it pleased or not. And then they turned on you, and you could do nothing. Her father, Mr. Elliott, the man in the checked suit, the principal of the school, all of them were cruel. She hated them. And most of all she hated her father.

But, notwithstanding the increasing irregularities of the household, Missie was a cheerful child. With the philosophy which children learn so much more readily than adults, she took life as it came. When there was peace and comparative plenty, she sang in a thin little pipe, and when matters were very bad, when Lambert had not been home for days and still Stella went round like a woman in a trance, she was quiet, watchful and wary.

"What do you want for supper, mom?"

"I don't care. You might open a can of tomatoes."

Ellen's air of detachment was interesting. It was when she was settled at the dining-table with her school work that Stella would open her door and call:

"Missie! Come on up. I want to see you about something."

And Missie would go heavily. She feared those hours when Stella, unable to keep her troubles to herself, poured out to her her jealousies and her suspicions.

Lambert came back, of course. There would be a quarrel and then, instead of the old reconciliation, a truce of sorts. Stella would dress carefully, but she was moody and taciturn, and Lambert would be sulky and silent also. After supper he would put on his hat—he was wearing a derby now—and call to Stella:

"I'm going to play some pool at Conroy's."

"That's what you say."

"If you don't believe it you can send the girl to find out."

"I'm likely to do that!"

Missie was fifteen when Lambert finally severed his connection with his family.

There had been no fresh quarrel, so far as she knew. He walked out one morning and did not come back. Stella, however, had herself well in hand. After all, she had had years to recognize her defeat. Her passion for Lambert had been, probably still was, the strongest influence in her life. She had been utterly his. What maternity she had was for his child, not for Ellen. But the light had been hopeless.

She was almost apathetic then when Lambert left. She stood on the stairs, fully dressed at that hour, a thing in itself remarkable, and watched him below her as he went through the routine of straightening his tie before the glass in the hat rack.

"That's all, is it?"

"Well, I've told you about the rent," he said.

"Never mind about that. I'll attend to it."

He seemed to hesitate, put on his hat, adjusted it carefully, drew up the corner of his handkerchief. He did not look at her.

"I'll send an express wagon around."

"When? I suppose I'll have to pack for you. This afternoon would be best."

"All right."

Ellen was not there. Missie was standing inside the kitchen door, with her heart beating fast. She had a sense of drama rather than tragedy; she felt that this was the end, and because she was afraid he might come to say good-bye to her she hurriedly wiped her hands on her kitchen apron.

But the next thing she heard was the closing of the front door. When she went into the hall Stella was sitting quietly on the staircase.

"I want to get your father's clothes in order, Missie," she said. "We have to get his trunk ready by this afternoon." She rose somewhat heavily, steadied herself by the banister. "I guess you and I can get it out of the storeroom. I asked him to, but he forgot it."

Together they carried it into the front room, Missie bearing the brunt of the weight, Stella panting. Not once did her composure break. Missie, counting collars and handkerchiefs, hastily sewing on a button here and there, was aware of a new admiration for the woman sitting there in her rocking chair. She felt a glow of love, a surge of sympathy. Suddenly she bent over and laid her cheek against her mother's riddled one.

"Poor old mom," she said. "We'll get along fine. You'll see."

Stella continued to rock somberly.

"They're all alike," she said. "You can't trust them. They take everything and give nothing. That's men for you."

With the departure of the trunk a strange quietness settled on the house. Whatever his failings, Lambert had brought vitality with him; the heavy tread of masculine feet. The smell of tobacco and Peau d'Esperagne, the clutter of newspapers, all had been a part of him. Even during that period of intermittent returns, there had been the drama of waiting for him. Days would go by, and then there would be the sound of his key in the lock, the opening and closing of the front door, and although quarrels and bickerings would follow, the vitality had been there.

Now it was gone.

With all her faults, Stella had a certain stoical courage. What memories she had as she sat in that upper room Missie never knew, but years later she was to wonder how they compared with the drab present; if time had not covered her with the glamour of all lost things, the struggles of her earlier days. That she had been on the burlesque stage was clear; when, two years or so after Lambert left, the two girls opened the trunk in the back room, they found photographs of her in the costumes of a Gaiety girl of the late '20s and early '30s.

Ellen was shocked and outraged. There was very little forgiveness in Ellen. But Missie, remembering that visit to Miss Beaumont, took one of the best of them and kept it.

"What do you want with it? You can't show it as your mother's picture!"

"I don't intend to show it."

"And you're never to tell about her. Do you hear that?"

"I suppose she had to get money somehow."

"There are decent ways to get money."

But before she was married Missie burned the picture. It was too hard to explain.

Hunters After Bargains To Have Chance Tomorrow

Local Storekeepers Promise Sensational Reductions in All Lines and Grades of Merchandise With Another and Greater Dollar Day

"Dollar Day" at Victoria is an occasion long looked for by eager bargain hunters of the city and its environs. Sponsored by the Retail Branch of the Chamber of Commerce, it promotes a co-operative effort on the part of local merchants to place their goods before the public at substantial reductions in prices.

In many instances sensational cuts have been made, embracing all lines of merchandise, from the dainty articles of lingerie beloved of the lady to the more bulky necessities required by the young couple about to furnish an apartment or dwelling-house.

Popularly termed "Dollar Day," bargains are by no means confined to articles selling ordinarily around this price, and extend to all and include all classes of saleable goods. In many instances substantial cuts have been made on a percentage basis. Thus the seeker after a bargain in shoes, clothes or furniture, may have the same advantage, pro rata, as others looking for values in the purchase of smaller and more moderate-priced articles. In past years "Dollar Days" have created a lot of interest, drawing large crowds of bargain hunters into the various places of business participating; but it is expected that all sales records will be eclipsed tomorrow on account of the greater values offered on this occasion.

Through the stores identified with this city-wide event, officials and clerks have been working overtime for days, checking and marking articles to be placed on the bargain counters, and to exhibit the merchandise to the best advantage, high standards of display and most artistic methods in window dressing have been applied.

P. T. A. ADDRESSED BY MRS. E. MAHON

Joint Meeting at Quadra School Hears Provincial President of Association

There was a record attendance at the Quadra Street School on Monday evening last, when Mrs. E. Mahon, president of the Provincial Parent-Teacher Association, was the principal speaker, it being a combined meeting of the several Parent-Teacher Associations of the city. Mrs. Mahon, who was introduced by President P. E. George, spoke on many subjects, among them being the value of study groups; the Parent-Teacher Association Federation Convention to be held shortly; European Parent-Teacher Associations; a child's double life, one at home and one at school; the International Good Will Committee; children's hobbies; meeting Japanese delegates, who thought English would be the universal language rather than Esperanto; home economics course to be started at the University of British Columbia next year; safety assurance, such as providing footpaths along highways, pupils of school; the importance of being more alert and interested in their work than those not having the same advantage, and the value of homework to the average pupil.

On Mrs. Mahon's inquiry as to the absence of a technical school in Victoria, Trustee Hebbden, who was a guest at the meeting, replied and explained some of the reasons. Mr. Muncey, principal of the school, gave a very thorough explanation of Dr. Weyman's method of arriving at the rank of the pupils and the marking of their monthly reports.

During the evening, Mrs. No. rendered two delightful solos in her usual charming manner. Both Mr. Mahon and Mrs. Noel were accorded the thanks of the meeting and presented with corsage bouquets. The social committee announced a Valentine social, with cards and dancing on February 14 commencing at 8 o'clock, and a concert with pupils of the school providing most of the entertainment on February 28.

Narcotic Charge Against Seaman Is Dismissed

VANCOUVER, Feb. 13.—Holding that the narcotic had never been landed in Canada, Police Magistrate H. C. Shaw today dismissed Lah Wah, member of the crew of the R.M.S. Empress of Canada, charged with having opium in his possession.

According to the evidence, the goods were found in a locker in the room on the ship where property of the crew is kept under customs seal while the vessel is in port. The defence contended that the accused had the opium for his own use and had complied with customs regulations and had not landed it.

MRS. TOLMIE TO OPEN NEW HOME

JUBILEE HOSPITAL NURSES' RESIDENCE TO BE INAUGURATED THIS AFTERNOON

Visitors to See Gift Furnishings—Fiction Book Shower Being Held

Mrs. S. P. Tolmie will officiate at the formal opening of the new nurses' home of the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital, at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Although the ceremony is to be of very simple nature, a great amount of interest centres in the event, the Junior Women's Auxiliary will hold a fiction book shower for the nurses' library, and the Women's Auxiliary will serve tea, assisted by the Junior W.A. and the Jubilee Alumnae. Three stories of the building will be present. The other outstanding incident of the afternoon will be an address by Premier Tolmie. In connection with the event, the Junior Women's Auxiliary will hold a fiction book shower for the nurses' library, and the Women's Auxiliary will serve tea, assisted by the Junior W.A. and the Jubilee Alumnae.

The new nurses' home, which occupies the southwest corner of the Jubilee Hospital grounds, fronting on Richmond Avenue, is an H-shaped structure, three stories in height, with 200-foot frontage, and a maximum width of 121 feet in the wings, and a depth of forty feet in the bridge part of the building.

Although the nurses are already moving into their new quarters, only a few of their rooms are completely furnished as yet. Visitors this afternoon, consequently, will see the interest on the main reception rooms. Among these are the big reception and recreation hall on the main floor, immediately facing the reception hall. This is the largest room in the building, measuring 85 by 42 feet, and the furnishing, carried out in practical blue, row and grey hangings and chintzes, is the gift of the Women's Auxiliary, which is also presenting a grand piano. The Jubilee Alumnae have made themselves responsible for the furnishing of the grey and rose reception room at the left side of the main entrance, and the supervisor's sitting room, also on the main floor, has been furnished in a very attractive scheme of apple-green and taupe, the gift of Mr. E. Watkins, the architect, and Mrs. Watkins.

BIG SITTING ROOMS

On each of the two upper floors is a comfortably furnished big sitting-room for the use of the nurses sleeping on that floor. His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Miss Mackenzie have furnished the sitting-room on the top floor, and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Morgan that on the second floor.

The principal other features which visitors should seek out today, are on the main floor, the matron's office, at the right side of the main entrance hall; the library; the linen closet, one of which opens immediately off the south end of the big reception and recreation hall, the other connected with the superior's sitting-room; and the little suite which has been set aside in the north wing for Miss Mitchell.

The basement floor contains a laundry, drying-room, boiler-room, study-room, technical library and study-room for nurses, and several large classrooms fitted with platforms and blackboards. The two upper floors are entirely given up to single and double rooms for nurses, with the study-rooms and sitting-rooms already mentioned. On the main floor twenty private rooms have been set aside for supervisors. Visitors will be impressed almost at once with the amount of window-space which has been provided, this achieving the maximum of fresh air and light in all rooms and corridors. There is not an inside room in the entire building. The appearance of the building is enhanced by the big balcony over the front entrance and the concrete balconies at each end. Ultimately it is the intention to have a cement walk leading from the northern entrance to the hospital, so that the nurses, in going to and from duty, will suffer as little as possible from wet weather.

Special attention was given to the plumbing throughout the building. Each room is supplied with hot and cold water; big lavatories in the north and south wings on each floor are fitted with showers and baths. Steam-heating is fitted throughout, the supply coming from the main powerhouse at the hospital.

MODERN CONVENIENCES
Garbage tips are fitted on each floor for carrying rubbish to the incinerator; each floor also has its linen chute, linen cupboards, housemaids' closets, and fire-fighting apparatus. Stairways are closed off from the main corridors by swing doors, so that noise is dispensed with as much as possible. Each floor connects with two fire escapes.

The building is of pressed Clayburn brick outside, and the inside walls are finished with plaster. The main entrance stands back about fifty feet from Richmond Avenue, and it is the intention eventually to beautify what is at present an unsightly expanse of excavated material with lawn, flowers and shrubs.

Precipitation of February Already Exceeds Average

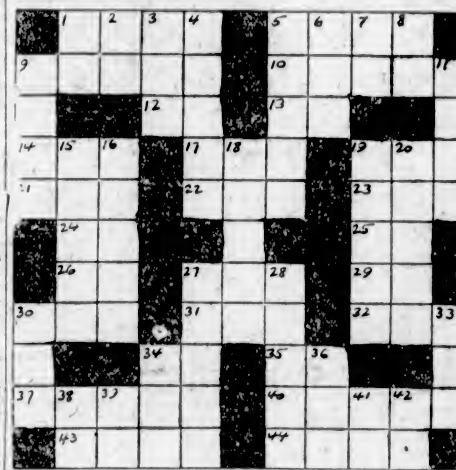

VICTORIA has exceeded its February average of rain and snow precipitation in the first thirteen days of the month by a margin of .11 inch, according to Mr. F. Napier Denison, of the Gonzales Meteorological Observatory. The precipitation in January, however, was 3.24 inches below the average, and Mr. Denison points out that there is still considerable leeway to be made up.

There was one inch of snow yesterday morning, with a slightly heavier fall on the higher levels and in the Puget Sound district. Last night there was rainfall along the coast of Washington and Oregon.

keith League, will play exhibition games against teams representing Keating at the Temperance Hall in the suburban district tomorrow night. J.B.A.A. women will play in the first game, while the mechanics will face Keating's intermediate squad in the second fixture. Keating's seniors will meet the Bays' senior "A" quintette in the feature tussle.

The Little feller liked to go to school all right, and he liked to go from school; what he didn't like was to stay in school.

NO TROUBLE AT ALL NOW

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Has Benefited This Woman

Millions today are eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN—guaranteed to relieve both temporary and recurring constipation.

The cause of constipation is the lack of roughage in food. Add sufficient roughage and constipation disappears. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is nearly all roughage.

Here is a letter from Mrs. H. Gilbert (address on request), which will be interesting to many sufferers:

"I had a very serious operation in October and when I came from the hospital my main trouble was constipation. One day I said to the doctor, 'I am going to eat ALL-BRAN,' and since I started I have no trouble what-so-ever. So you see I can't praise it enough and am always telling my friends what it did for me."

You will enjoy the nut-like flavor of this delicious, ready-to-eat cereal. It is rich in iron, and when eaten with milk or fruit juices, adds important vitamins to the diet.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is an essential in any reducing diet. It means every day health to people all over the world. Your grocer has it in the red-and-green package. Served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

"Legal assistance!" snapped the Judge. "You were caught in the jeweler's shop; two policemen saw you. You had the goods on you, and you have been convicted forty-two times. Now what could a lawyer say for you?"

"Well, sah, Judge," said the negro, "that's just what I'll sure be interested to know."—Vancouver Star.

At The Playhouses

ROYAL The brilliantly funny comedy "Hay Fever," which the Gordon McLeod Players are presenting at the Royal this week to large audiences, has only three more performances to run. This offering by these players is one of the cleverest and most popular yet given. Not only is it brilliantly written, but it is splendidly played by all the members of the company—a ripple of laughter from beginning to end and there are moments when the laughter breaks into a roar. Altogether this is one of the most delightful entertainments.

COLUMBIA It may not be new, but it's true that a dog's reception of a pretentious person's character. In Tom Mix's Fox Film offering, now showing at the Columbia Theatre, he visits his uncle as his Eastern home. The uncle, to determine what kind of a man his nephew is, sends him a big dog to meet him at the station. The result is a canine-man friendship that plays a big part in the picture.

CAPITOL Marking a new milestone in screen entertainment, the much heralded talking picture, "Alibi," had its local premiere yesterday at the Capitol Theatre, and more than exceeded the expectations of capacity audiences. United Artists and Roland West, producer and director of this 100 per cent audible film special, have contributed the finest example yet offered in this new form of screen art.

DOMINION In a day when every picture is heralded in the motion picture world, it is hard to know where to look for the really outstanding film. It has arrived at last with the two foremost stars of the cinema, Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks in "Taming of the Shrew" at the Dominion Theatre. This is the first appearance of these famous stars together, and is a real event in local theatrical circles.

VARIETY Modern, sophisticated theatre and sparkling with laughter, the brilliant farce comedy, "Teddy," is the Toby Leitch play offering at the Variety Theatre this week. "Teddy" is a scintillating satire on the manners of ultra-smart society. Raymond Toby Leitch plays one of the most delightful starring parts as the harassed father of three temperamental daughters. Toby's inimitable comedy proves a constant source of delight in a play that abounds with laughter from beginning to end.

PLAYHOUSE Although "dog pictures" are practically "out" in film-dom since the rising of talking pictures and Movietone, "Ranger," a clever canine trained to play "mad dog" and stampede a city crowd.

Special Theatre Stage Built to Film "Sally"

No theatre or studio stage in Hollywood or Los Angeles was large enough to hold the spectacular scenes from Marilyn Miller's "Sally," the first National and Vitaphone picture which comes to the Capitol Theatre Monday. So the theatre stage was built especially for the picture, on the largest stage at the Burbank Studios. It was 135 feet wide, fifty feet from the footlights to the top of the proscenium arch, and 110 feet from the curtain to the back wall. The stage was equipped with special scenery, curtains and drapes, and made practical in every way, including a number of floor elevators and other mechanical devices.

Miss MacDonnell Makes Film Debut in "Talkie"

"The girl with the red-gold hair and the sea-green eyes," known to the musical comedy world as Jeanette MacDonnell, has gone "talkie" through a whim of fate. Ernst Lubitsch, the famous director, went in search of a proper leading lady for Maurice Chevalier for "The Love Parade" at the Dominion Theatre. In New York Lubitsch attended every musical show and every show in production in search of the perfect type he desired for the role of Queen Louise.

At last he decided that Jeanette MacDonnell was the perfect type. She was beautiful, she was a talented actress and she could sing. She was just finishing an engagement in the Broadway show "Boo! Boom!" and was immediately placed under contract for "The Love Parade."

"The Love Parade," which brings Maurice Chevalier to the Dominion Theatre again for six days, starting Monday, is an original musical romance.

Car Production Again Beginning To Show Growth

(Associated Press) WASHINGTON, D.C., Feb. 13.—Production of automobiles, which in December was the smallest of any month in seven years, increased in the last few weeks.

The Federal Reserve Board says in its monthly bulletin reviewing business and financial conditions: "Since the turn of the year there has been an increase in activity in several lines of industry."

The review said, "but it is too early to determine whether this increase has been general throughout the various lines of industry."

Good people don't really die young. They live to get over it.

It matters not by whom 'tis done. A good turn shinneth like the sun. —Chatterer, the Red Squirrel.

For several mornings Chatterer the Red Squirrel had watched his breakfast of corn disappear down the black throat of Blacky the Crow. Chatterer and Blacky are much alike in one thing—neither likes to be out after dark or to start out before daylight. So usually they arrive at the same time over by Farmer Brown's corncrib to pick up the corn that Timmy the Flying Squirrel had dropped in the night. Sometimes Chatterer would get there a moment or two ahead of Blacky, which would give him a chance to get two or three grains of corn. Sometimes Blacky would get there first. But after Blacky arrived, Chatterer got no more corn.

Finally there came a morning when it seemed as if the black shadows never would go back to the purple hills. You see, it was a cloudy morning. So when Chatterer reached the corncrib it was much darker than usual. Chatterer grinned when he peeped out from under the corncrib and saw that Blacky the Crow had not yet arrived. Chatterer ran out and began to eat corn as fast as ever he could. All the time he kept a watchful eye open for Blacky the Crow. He had no desire to be hit by that stout bill of Blacky's, and he knew that if Blacky got the chance he certainly would hit him. The instant he caught sight of Blacky he darted under the corncrib. Blacky alighted and as usual shook out his feathers before beginning to eat. He stood for a moment or two looking to and fro in all directions. They began to pick up corn.

"He's in a dreadful hurry," thought Chatterer. "He is picking up that corn as if he had just a minute to spare. I wonder what he has. He certainly is nervous. He keeps looking this way and looking that way."

All the time that Chatterer was thinking these things he was scolding as usual. Every morning he had to tell Blacky just what he thought of him. Blacky paid no attention to Chatterer, but appeared to be most uneasy. You see, you see, it didn't get light as fast as usual, and Blacky never can feel fully himself until the full light of day. Suddenly, when only half the corn had been eaten, Blacky spread his wings and left in a great hurry. In fact, he made Chatterer stop scolding and stare.

"Something has frightened Blacky," thought Chatterer. "He is a frightened bird. I never saw one. Yes, sir, he is a frightened bird. There must be someone around. I guess I'll keep under here for a while and keep my tongue still."

So Chatterer did both these things. He kept under the corncrib and he kept his tongue still. At the same time he peeped out and used those bright eyes of his for all they were worth. It was fortunate for Chatterer that he did. He saw something shadowy pass swiftly in the direction Blacky had just taken. Chatterer caught his breath. "Hooty!" he whispered to himself under his breath. "That was Hooty the Owl! Blacky must have seen him. I don't wish Blacky any real harm, but I hope Hooty will drive him away into the Green Forest and keep him there."

Chatterer danced about excitedly underneath the corncrib, but it was a long time before he dared to go out to get the remainder of the corn. You see, he didn't know where Hooty might be, and he knew that Hooty would like nothing better for breakfast than a red squirrel. But gradually it grew light, and at last it was so light that there was no chance that Hooty would come back. Neither was there any chance that Blacky would come back, for by this time Farmer Brown and Farmer Brown's boy were up and out. So it was that Hooty the Owl did Chatterer a good turn, for Chatterer had that corn all to himself.

FRUIT DISTRIBUTION
Proposed amendments to the Produce Marketing Act, providing for compulsory fruit pools, will be considered by the agricultural committee of the House, under the chairmanship of Colonel Fred Lister, Conservative, Creston, at a sitting this morning at the Parliament Buildings.

Technical amendments to strengthen the act along lines suggested by the Interior Committee of Direction, were discussed by the committee yesterday.

A proposal to give the Committee of Direction power to levy funds on all growers to aid the industry generally, met with some argument. Mr. F. M. Black, chairman of the committee, stated it was not proposed to use the money for advertising contrary to the wishes of the B. C. Fruitgrowers' Association, which recently rejected an advertising campaign suggested by the committee. While in regard to advertising as valuable, Mr. Black said that in view of the association's attitude, the money would be used only to handle such matters as sending representatives to fruit markets, to Ottawa and other places, and for other emergencies.

One amendment suggested gave the committee power to classify all persons in the fruit industry according to the nature of their business, while another provided that the committee may satisfy itself that any person applying for a shipper's licence will obey the law, and may refuse a licence unless it is satisfied. A further amendment considered was one by which a person charged with violating the act must prove that the produce involved was grown just inside the committee's area of jurisdiction. Mr. T. G. Norrish, solicitor for the committee, pointed out that without such an arrangement, the committee could not prosecute successfully.

The House agricultural committee will give consideration to all these suggested amendments.

SOUND AUCTION and CONTRACT by WILBUR C. WHITEHEAD The World's Greatest Authority

Good Play Here Quite as Important as Good Bidding

Three. With the Two in Dummy, East can read South with but four Spades, and hence North with three. So much for the Spade situation. East, in counting his two hands, must lose two Clubs and one Diamond. In addition thereto, there is always the possibility of a trump loser. So counted, East can have no positive assurance of making his contract. In the Duplicate Contract Match in which this hand arose, but one East player made four Hearts. This hand, if conducted the play will be explained later.

SALENT POINTS OF THE BIDDING
Auction: South passing, West bids one No Trump, North passing. East takes out with two Hearts, concluding the bidding.

Contract: The bidding in Contract is the same as given above in Auction, except that East should take out with three Hearts to show more than ordinary take-out strength. This bid will, of course, be carried by West to four Hearts, the game contract. It may be noted that had East taken out with but two Hearts, West could well be in doubt whether to advance such minimum take-out.

THE PLAY
South opens the three of Spades. The Dummy going down, East considers how best to proceed to try for his contract. The first thing he does after winning the first trick with the King of Spades is to lay down his Ace of Spades. His next consideration is whether to lay down his Ace and King of Trumps, on the chance of the out-standing four trumps being split 2-2, or to attempt a finesse against the Queen. He has no indication as to the probable split of the out-standing four Hearts. The Dummy Hand shows the Ace from his own hand and following with a small Heart to the King from Dummy. The first Heart lead disclosed the fact that the four outstanding Hearts (Q-9-8-7) were held by South. In this situation East must drive out South's Queen in order to capture the Nine, but before doing so he leads a third round of Spades from his hand, and South, who has been leading the Nine, before doing so he leads a third round of Spades from his hand, and South, who has been leading the Nine, before doing so he leads a third round of Spades from his hand.

EGG POOL REPORT FOR FIRST YEAR

Statement of Short Year Working Shows That Large Number of Eggs Have Been Marketed

NEW WESTMINSTER, Feb. 13.—

Reports for the first fiscal year of the British Columbia Egg Pool, ending January 31, showed that 5,463,275 dozen eggs, valued at $1,897,716, were handled. This first fiscal year contained only nine and one-half months, as the pool commenced operations on April 15 last. Had it been a complete twelve months, the annual turnover of eggs would have had a value of more than $2,000,000.

In the sixth pool period, lasting from December 7 to January 31, a total of 1,007,009 dozen eggs were handled, having a total value of $400,000.

Following out the policy to deduct 1 cent per dozen eggs for the reserve fund, the pool has now $35,000 in the reserve and operating fund.

The annual meeting of the pool has been announced for March 6.

Explains How Enlarged Veins Can Be Reduced

Often times Veins Burst and Cause Much Suffering, Expense and Loss of Employment

Many people have become dependent because they have been led to believe that there is no remedy that will reduce swollen veins and bunched.

If you will get a two-ounce original bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil (full strength) at MacFarlane Drug Co., Owl Drug Co., or any first-class drug store and apply it at home as directed, you will quickly notice an improvement which will continue until the veins and bunches are reduced to normal.

Moore's Emerald Oil, which has brought much comfort to worried people all over the country, is one of the wonderful discoveries of recent years, and anyone who is disappointed with its use can have his money refunded. (Adv.)

Former World's Wrestling Champion Will Appear Here This Evening

"Strangler" Lewis to Meet Kruse in First Bout Here in Years

Record Crowd Expected to Witness Grappling Card to Be Staged at Armories—First Event to Start at 8:30 o'clock

Ed "Strangler" Lewis, former world's champion, who headlines tonight's grappling card which will be presented at the Armories, is one of the most colorful and best-known athletes of the present day. Lewis has been before the sporting public for twenty years and reigned as champion for over half that time. The "Strangler" has been matched with Bob Kruse, Oregonian matman, in what promises to be an interesting bout.

In the semi-windup attraction Ken Jones, Seattle, will grapple with Ivan Valcoff, Russian giant, and a recent arrival in America. Two preliminaries will round out an all-star card. The first bout is scheduled to get under way at 8:30 o'clock.

REARED TO BE FARMER

Born on a farm in Northern Wisconsin in June, 1891, reared to be a farmer, at the early age of eighteen years, Lewis turned to the professional wrestling game for his career. One of his earliest matches was with Beale, then world's champion. Beale put Ed out of commission for better than six months, but the young man was determined to become the world's greatest. In 1915, Lewis and his colorful manager, Billy Sandow, became partners in the campaign for world recognition, and Lewis then entered the climb to the top. Through Sandow came the development of the most vicious hold known to the wrestling game, the headlock. At this time Ed was a well-developed young man of about 180 pounds. With the development of the headlock came the development of the chest and arms. Now Lewis possesses the strongest arms of any wrestler in the game and measures exactly fifty-four inches around the chest, and weighs right at 200 pounds. In 1917, Lewis had become a real threat to the champion, Zyzanski, but his ambitions were laid aside and he and his manager entered the service of the United States. Both became physical instructors, and as such served the duration of the war.

In 1919, Lewis made his bid for the world's title and conquered. Since that time he has reigned as such, until the introduction of football to the wrestling game by Gus Sonnenberg. This was new to all the orthodox wrestlers and the huge target displayed by Lewis made him easy prey for this new style.

While not champion at this time, Ed Lewis is unquestionably the greatest wrestler in the world today, speaking strictly from a wrestling and not a football standpoint. He has been for months working out a real defense for Sonnenberg's title and should they meet again the story may be different.

A gentleman out of the ring, with a heart that is gold, Lewis, upon entering the squared circle becomes the man you love to hate, the heart is stone and he is the vicious, tearing, skull-crushing caveman that has subdued every man that has faced him.

EXPECTED TO MAKE NAME
Bob Kruse, a young farmer from Oswego, Ore., is a name that the leaders of the heavyweight wrestling game will have to consider seriously from now on. In fact, the word has been passed along that here is a young fellow that only the best should meet. Matches for Kruse are becoming harder and harder to make, and even the great Ed "Strangler" Lewis will be in shape to do his best when he meets Kruse tonight.

It will be experience, generalship, the seasoning of a veteran and a champion against the strength and ambition of youth, that reckless men known only to those who are still on the sunny side of young manhood. While Lewis is crafty, tricky and will go to any end to win his matches, he always faces the possibility of defeat when facing the enthusiasm of youth. Well remembered by all is the fact that it was the youth of all the Allies that brought us through to victory in the Great War. Directed by older and the more experienced, nevertheless, it took the fire of youth to win.

Kruse's first bid for fame came when he, for three successive years, captured the national amateur heavyweight wrestling championship of the United States. With this as a background he has entered the ranks of the contenders for the world's professional title. This match with Lewis will give him his greatest opportunity to gain world recognition. We can be sure that he will be in there doing his best.

Ken Jones, Seattle butcher boy, is known to the Victoria fans through the medium of the radio, and under the able teachings of Charlie Hanson, Swedish champion, Jones has made huge strides forward. He meets his strongest and best opponent of his career in Ivan Valcoff, the Russian giant, who recently came to America to bring back to his countrymen the title. This will be the first appearance of Valcoff in the local arena. This match takes on added importance for should Jones succeed in pinning the great Russian, he will be in line for main event work in Seattle. Valcoff, of course, will also have plenty at stake for he is making a bid for recognition in the Northwest.

Both of these matches will be real main events, both for the best two out of three falls. Should the Jokers sprang one of the biggest upsets of the present season when they blanked Victoria West 2-0 last week in a Combination Cup game. With a full line-up tomorrow they might possibly push the dope by pushing the Thistles out of the Jackson Cup series.

All eight of the Junior League teams will be busy in league fixtures with the programme as follows: James Island vs. Victoria City, at James Island, K. of C. vs. Royal Oak, at Central Park, lower ground; Oaklands vs. Esquimalt, at Spencer's Park; Y.M.C.A. vs. Sidney, at Central Park, upper ground. ### Veteran Cue Star to Attempt Comeback

CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—The shaving off of his famous goatee and wearing mustache, has convinced the officials of the National Billiard Association that George Butler Sutton should have a chance to regain his place among leaders in the 182 ball line game.

Sutton, who is sixty-six years old was 182 ball line champion more than twenty years ago. He has been offered a test match of 900 points with Percy N. Collins, of Chicago, the date of which will be set if the veteran agrees. Sutton raised the goatee and mustache years ago because he appeared too young. Now he has removed them to appear younger.

The matches between women golfers of Great Britain and the United States to be held in London in May will be unofficial, as there is insufficient time for the union to make plans for this year, but in the future such international matches will be given an official stamp.

MANDELL-McLARNIN BATTLE SET BACK

Closeness of Dates of Two Chicago Mixes Forces Change—February 28 Suggested

CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—The Illinois State Athletic Commission today refused the Chicago Stadium permission to hold its proposed ten-round bout between Sammy Mandell, world lightweight champion, and Jimmy McLarnin, Vancouver, B.C., welterweight, on February 24. The commission decided the Stadium must adhere to the original date allotment for the month—February 21 for the Stadium.

Stadium officials immediately started plans for holding the fight on February 28, but had not determined if both Mandell and McLarnin would be available then. The commission approved Stadium officials for not having made formal application for the date before announcing the fight and placing tickets on sale. Leonard Sacks, business manager for Jack Dempsey, had protested to the commission that the two dates were too close together and that neither club would do the amount of business the shows merited if the Stadium held its fight on February 24, three days after Dempsey's next offering at the Coliseum.

The Mandell-McLarnin bout would be the third "rubber" engagement met between the pair. Mandell defeated the Coast Irishman in Madison Square Garden in defending his lightweight title a year ago last Summer, while McLarnin scored a decision victory in the Stadium last Fall at 145 pounds.

Two Big Tourneys Will Be Held Here In Month of August

Seniors to Gather at Colwood August 12—City Tourney to Start Following Week—B.C. Amateur Billed for Vancouver in April

Dates for the British Columbia amateur, city championship and the seniors' Northwest Golf Association tournament were revealed yesterday by Captain J. V. Perks, secretary of the Victoria Golf Club. These three coveted titles annually attract brilliant players and this year are expected to draw larger entry lists than any previous year.

A little over two months from now one of the largest contingents of golfers, representing cities throughout the Pacific Northwest, will pack up their implements and wend their way to the Vancouver Golf and Country Club to compete in the British Columbia amateur tourney. The tournament will commence on April 18 and continue on until April 21, when the provincial champion will be crowned.

On August 12, 13, 14 and 15 the seniors will journey out to the Colwood Golf and Country Club, where they will stage their annual championship. On the following week, August 24, to be exact, youths and veterans of the fairways will assemble at the Uplands Golf Club to tee off in the qualifying round of the city championship, over the thirty-six-hole route.

BUSY SESSION AHEAD

Besides this trio of important fixtures there are the club championships, interclub matches, intercity meetings, mixed tourneys, and other attractions, too numerous to mention. In other words, the royal and ancient game will probably enjoy one of its most successful years as far as the local fraternities are concerned.

CITY MEET AT UPLANDS

Starting on August 24 with the thirty-six-hole qualifying round, the city championship will get under way at the Uplands Golf Club. The tournament will resume on August 30, and on September 1 the monarch of the year will be crowned.

Bob Morrison, the youthful exponent from the Uplands Golf Club, played brilliantly last season to walk off with the qualifying round and then breezed through a select field to win the title. His victim in the final round was Harold Lineham, of the Colwood Club. With the tourney at Uplands this year, Morrison will probably face the barrier a hot favorite to retain his laurels.

The first interclub match of the 1930 golfing season will be staged at the Uplands Club, when, on March 23, Victoria Golf Club's "A" team will journey to Uplands, and the "B" squad will play at Oak Bay.

Matches With United States Will Start Next Year—Plan to Send Teams to Dominions

LONDON, Feb. 13.—International golf matches with the United States and France were approved today at the annual meeting of the Women's Golf Union, which deliberates for the affiliated clubs representing 100,000 women players of Great Britain. It was also voted to send teams to tour the Dominions.

The matches between women golfers of Great Britain and the United States to be held in London in May will be unofficial, as there is insufficient time for the union to make plans for this year, but in the future such international matches will be given an official stamp.

Firm Footing Needed for Your Balance

IF YOU ADDRESS BALL FOR BLAST WITHOUT FIRING FEET IN HAND, YOU ARE DOING IT WRONG. HIT SAND AT THIS POINT.

YOUR RIGHT WRIST MUST BE IN AS YOU GO BACK—THUS YOUR BACK STRIKES SAND AT 1'.

YOUR LEFT WRIST MUST BE IN AS YOU GO FORWARD—THUS YOUR BACK STRIKES SAND AT 2'.

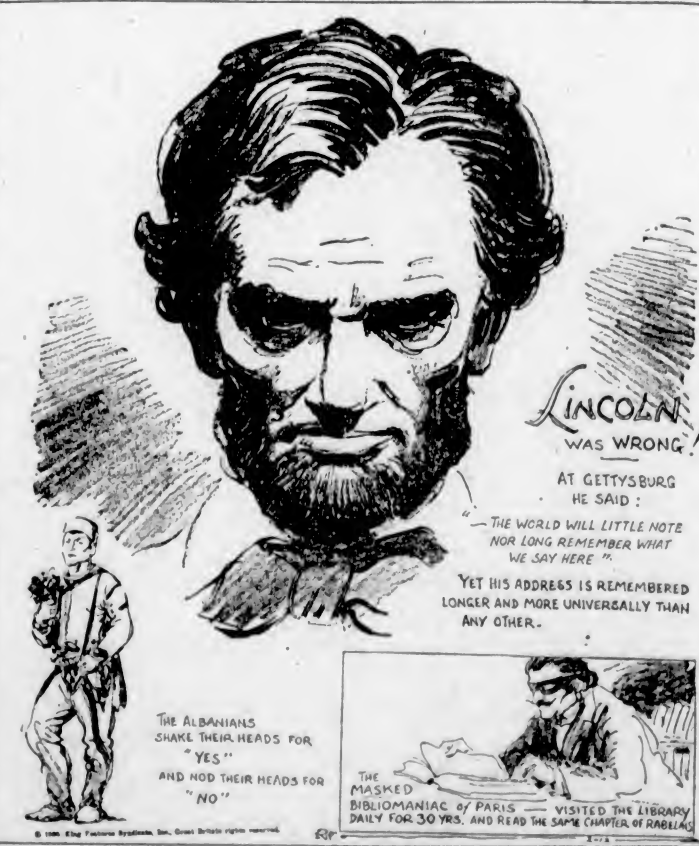

In seeking for truth in a sand trap the golfer must study the sand itself. It is not a firm substance as all who read the Good Book learned in infancy. Thus one must study its consistency and condition in each sand trap encountered.

As every golfer needs a firm footing for balance be sure to grind your feet as deeply into the sand as you can when addressing the ball. All have seen players enter a trap of sand that seem firm. They did everything they should in taking the shot. Why?

The reason is that when addressing the ball they did not sink in because the weight was distributed between both feet. But as they made their backswing, the weight transferring mostly to the right leg, that foot sank in. Result, the blade of their club did not enter the sand as they figured. It struck this surface an inch or so farther back. Dig into sand with both feet. And when you get the ball out rake over the holes you have made. Tomorrow—more about sand itself.

PORTLAND INCREASES LEAD IN P.C.H.L.

Buckaroos Nose Out Vancouver Lions in Exciting Encounter

Conn's Lone Goal Early in Third Period Gives Bobby Rowe's Puckchasers a Three-Point Lead in Race for Coast Bunting

PORTLAND, Feb. 13.—Portland increased its lead over Vancouver in the Pacific Coast Hockey League three points here tonight by defeating the Lions, 1-0, in an exciting game at the Coliseum. The Bucks have thirty-three points against Vancouver's thirty.

A tricky shot just inside the blue line by Red Conn, steady centre star and Buck captain, four minutes after the final period opened, gave the Bucks their victory. Although Conn scored from the ice with the puck and himself shot the goal, Percy Jackson, Vancouver net tender, was drawn to one side by some clever maneuvering on the part of Joe McGoldrick, veteran defence man, who coasted in ahead of the play as if to take a pass but shifted to one side.

The opening was just what Conn was after, so instead of completing the play to McGoldrick, he sent a hard straight shot to the left of Jackson. The rubber bounded from the rope into the net.

The contest opened with furious skating up and down the ice, but the defence of the two clubs was airtight and shooting was kept to a minimum. Both goalies had an easy time.

SLOW SECOND PERIOD

After the fast maneuvering of the opening session, the next period was slow and both clubs were ragged in handling the puck, but in the final period the two sextettes opened up with everything in their possession. Conn's solo tally and a series of brilliant though ineffective four-man rushes by the Lions featured the play. Although the puck was in Portland territory most of the time, "Airtight" Andy Atkinson executed a number of spectacular saves to keep the visitors from scoring. At one time Atkinson, to save his net, leaped far in front of the mesh to fall upon the rubber. He held on despite the efforts of a majority of the Vancouver team to jar him loose.

Immediately after the game the Bucks left for Vancouver, where they meet the homeless Victoria Cubs tomorrow night. Vancouver meets the Eskimos at Seattle.

How to Judge Scotch Whisky

THE OLDEST WHISKY IN THE WORLD. Established 1742.

EXPERTS test whisky by the nose and the palate. To tell a good whisky by the nose is rather difficult, but most people can rely on their palate, and if you have a sensitive palate you should have no difficulty in detecting the fine qualities of "White Horse".

A bite in whisky does not necessarily signify that it has great alcoholic strength. Cheap and immature whisky has a decided bite. If whisky is matured for 20 to 30 years the strength is reduced very considerably.

"Marrying" of "White Horse" Scotch Whisky. A blending of malts and grain whisky. For "White Horse" only the choicest makes of Scotch Whisky are selected. They are matured for a long period in sherry wood before blending. After the first blending "White Horse" is allowed to lie in wood for a further period to allow the whisky to become properly "married". It is again put in the blending vat and again allowed to lie in the wood. The general public have very little knowledge of time, expense and care involved in bottling in Scotland and sent to all corners of the globe.

A more mellow, generous and delightful spirit than "White Horse" is not obtainable. This Real Old Scotch, which is the senior whisky of Scotland, will sustain the dignity of any Club, Mansion or Cottage anywhere. It is distilled and bottled in Scotland and sent to all corners of the globe.

Speculators Force Prices Up at N.Y. and at Close Market Is Rather Higher

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Powerful speculators for the advance met increased resistance in today's stock market, but managed to lift a wide assortment of utilities and leading industrials to new high levels for 1930.

Bears gained the advantage for a time in the afternoon and gains were considerably reduced, particularly in the utility group. Shorts were driven to cover in the last half hour, however, and despite several isolated weak spots, the market closed irregularly higher. Total sales aggregated 3,698,720 shares.

The weekly brokerage loan figures, coming to hand after the close of the market, could not be interpreted as favorable, showing a gain of $48,000,000 on top of last week's increase of $57,000,000, but there has been a tendency to disregard brokers' loans of late, on the theory that they have been so thoroughly deflated that a substantial upturn need not be viewed with alarm.

The industrial news of the day included the announcement of the proposed Stone & Webster-Engineers Public Service merger, together with a $4 annual dividend basis for Stone & Webster, which stimulated power operations in the electric power issues. Underwood-Elliott-Fisher reported 1929 earnings of $10.08 a share, compared with $6.77 on a smaller capitalization in 1928.

The tobacco shares were bid up rapidly, American Tobacco "B" rising 71-2 points to $235, equaling its 1929 high. American Can was up 4 points, reflecting continued

ANOTHER DAY FEATURELESS AT WINNIPEG

Prices Decline at Start, Following Weak Cables and No Overnight Export Sales

COARSE GRAINS ALL EASIER FOR THE DAY

(Branson, Brown & Co. Ltd.)

WINNIPEG, Feb. 13.—Another featureless day in the wheat market with nothing going on, outside of a small local business. During the first period prices declined 7-8 to 1-4 cents under the close last night, with wheat being thrown overboard based on the weak cables and no export sales overnight. However, Chicago turned around, which forced some local short covering, and offerings being light, prices climbed to fractionally above the previous close, the May future touching 1.30, but the demand petered out and, with offerings more liberal, the market again eased off.

Seaboard reported export sales at 300,000 bushels, mostly Manitobas, but there was no evidence of any business in this market and all exporters and shippers stated they had received no offers overnight or this morning. There was no change in the cash market situation which continues very dull, demand absent and offerings very light. Mills reported nothing doing. There were a few complete deliveries from winter wheat territory with regard to frosts and no snow covering, but these had little effect on the market. Would confine purchases to the seaboard.

Coarse grains: Those markets were as earlier today although at times displaying firmness. Trade volume was very light and featureless.

Flax: Practically nothing doing.

JUST LIKE A WOMAN

"Is this train ever on time?" growled the grouchy passenger.

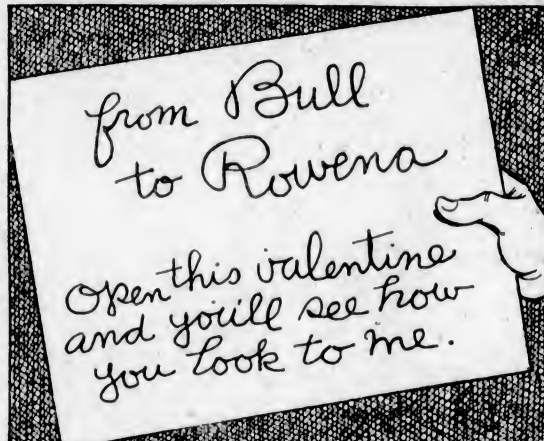

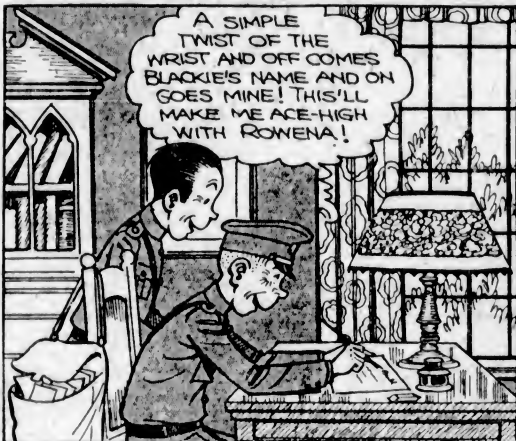

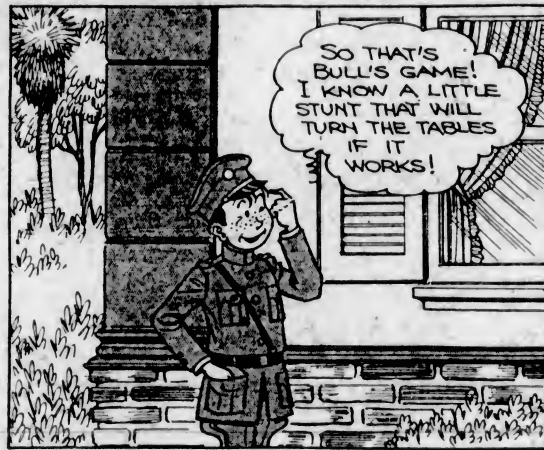

"Oh," replied the conductor, "we never worry about it ever being on time. We're satisfied if it's always on the track."

A French doctor named Tours claims to have discovered a means of making the human body transparent. This will be no news for wives, many of whom are already able to see through their husbands.

GOVERNMENT IS UNSHAKEN

Conservatives Rally to Confirm Action of Executive With Regard to Mrs. MacGill

The situation with regard to Mrs. Helen MacGill is a closed book as far as the Government is concerned. Yesterday afternoon in the House the motion calling for all the correspondence in connection with this matter of Mrs. MacGill, and the position of Judge of the Juvenile Court of Vancouver, which she held previous to the rearrangement of the courts, following the creation of the city of Greater Vancouver, was defeated in the Legislature on a straight party vote, with Mr. Uphill voting with the Government.

The Minister of Education, in concluding the debate as far as the Government was concerned, intimated that the Government had weighed the qualifications of the new judge of the court, and those of Mrs. MacGill, and in its judgment had decided in favor of Miss Patterson. The Government, he pointed out, was responsible for the carrying on of affairs, and it did not propose to be dictated to by the Opposition. That was not constitutional practice.

Hon. J. Hinchliffe observed that the leader of the Opposition had said that he was not going to be bound by what the late Government did. If so, why should this Government reiterate what the late Government did, which had appointed Mrs. MacGill.

The new appointment was made by the party in power and responsible for things. There were qualifications possessed by Miss Patterson that were not possessed by Mrs. MacGill and vice versa.

The Government decided the matter, as was its duty. Having decided, it saw no reason for altering its decision.

Mr. Uphill did not approve of so much fuss over this matter. It would be a weakness on the part of the Government to change its position.

If a man were "fired" off the road there would be nothing heard. Because a woman, who had a husband who was able to maintain her, was "fired" all this trouble was aroused. He would "fire" all the married women who had husbands capable of supporting them, and make room for the young girls who could fill the positions.

On a division being called, the order for a return relative to Mrs. MacGill was defeated by a vote of twenty-nine against, and ten for. The vote was a straight party one, with Mr. Uphill voting with the Conservatives.

Right miles of railway trackage are now under construction for the plant. Four miles of standard gauge has been laid and four miles more of narrow gauge will be laid for yard switching.

Bone, Brawn—and Babies

SPECIALISTS in children's institutions have found that the direct sun rays enable children to grow strong—the bones to develop as nature intended—and the teeth to become firm, straight and free from decay. Cod Liver Oil through its content of Vitamin D possesses similar qualities to the sun's rays. In addition it is the only concentrated source of another important factor which promotes growth, health and resistance to disease—Vitamin A.

This is why baby specialists make Cod Liver Oil such an essential part of the baby's diet.

Ayerst's Biologically-tested Cod Liver Oil contains uniform amounts of these vitamins—and is treated by a special carbonating process which imparts a surprisingly fine, wholesome flavour and enhances its quality of being easily digested by even young babies.

If the baby, or one of the older children is not gaining in weight or strength, consult your physician. Avail yourself of his knowledge and wide experience; it is the safe and reasonable thing to do.

If he recommends Cod Liver Oil, ask him about Ayerst's.

"Talkies" Invade Pacific

To increase the enjoyment of ocean travel, the Ss. Malolo, plying between San Francisco and Hawaii, is being equipped to show the latest talking pictures on her next voyage.

The Malolo will be the first Pacific liner to carry permanent photographic equipment. Installation is being rushed for the February 22 sailing of the Malolo as that is the voyage with which the second trans-Pacific boat train, bringing passengers from New York and Chicago across the country without change to San Francisco, will connect. An outstanding feature film is being sought in honor of the passengers who are coming out on the second boat train to sail to Hawaii. The view at the right is of one of the lounges where the equipment will be placed.

CANADA'S WELCOME TO BE MADE PLAIN

Mr. G. I. Warren Will Tell Seattle How and Why Tourists Are Appreciated Here

"Does Canada welcome tourists?" will be a question discussed at a mass luncheon meeting of the general membership of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce today. Mr. George I. Warren, publicity commissioner for Victoria, and first vice-president of the Canadian Association of Tourist and Publicity Bureaus, will tell why and how tourists are welcomed in this country in an address under the title of "Canada's Appraisal of the Value of the Tourist Industry."

Another speaker at the luncheon will be Captain Fred P. Andrews, of the U.S. cableship Delwood, which has recently returned from a tour of the world. The Rendon School Orchestra, which consists of thirty-five pieces, will render selections during the luncheon. Mr. Warren left for Seattle by aeroplane late yesterday afternoon and will return tomorrow morning.

Now and then an applicant for a job will give an honest estimate of his worth. A farmer, in great need of extra hands at haying time, finally asked St. Warren, who was accounted the town fool, if he could help him out. "What'll ye pay?" asked St. "I'll pay what you're worth," answered the farmer. St. scratched his head a minute, then announced decisively: "I'll be damned if I'll work for that!"—Belleville Ontario
